Communists Call For General Strike Against Hitler

SOCIALISTS JOIN FORCES IN PROTEST

Efforts Fail When Dockworkers Ignore Orders Sent Out By Agitators

CELEBRATE VICTORY

New Chancellor and President Hindenburg Witness Big Demonstration

BERLIN, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Communists and Socialists called for a general strike today against the government of Adolf Hitler, Nazi leader, while Hitler began his first day as chancellor by seeking parliamentary support to guarantee the existence of his regime.

First strike efforts of the Communists and Socialists combined for a united front against Hitler, were unsuccessful. Dockworkers at Hamburg ignored the demands of agitators. Train car windows were smashed and shots were fired before the Communists were dispersed.

Hitler received Centrist leader Dr. Ludwig Kaas, and was understood to have offered the Centrists the post of ministry of justice in exchange for their support. Johannes Bell, one of the signatories of the Versailles peace treaty, was mentioned for the portfolio. The Centrists had not yet decided whether they would enter the government. Meanwhile, they were expected to abstain from voting either for or against Hitler in the Reichstag.

There were various minor clashes between Nazis and their foes outside Berlin. In a bitter street fight here early today two men were killed and several wounded.

Play Prevented
At Elbing, Nazis prevented the performance of Alfred Herzog's play, "The Scandal about Lieutenant Blumenthal," charging it insulted the German army. The author was greeted with boos and cat calls.

Several Communists were arrested in the disturbance at the Hamburg shipyards. No injuries were reported.

First violence resulting from the Nazi ascent to power occurred early today in the Charlottenburg district when a gay party of Nazi brown shirts was fired on from ambush. A revolver battle followed in which two men were killed and several wounded. The attackers fired from darkened doorways.

The Nazis, fresh from a torchlight procession which had celebrated Hitler's victory, returned the fire, with the support of two policemen. Eighty shots were fired before police reinforcements arrived and found policeman Josef Taunitz and brown shirt Malkowski dying. Other wounded men were believed to have been carried away from the scene of the fight.

Revolver Battle
In the Spandau district, Nazis and Communists fought with revolvers and two wounded Communists were taken to hospital.

President von Hindenburg, 85 year old field marshal, idol of the German people in peace and in war, shared honors with Hitler last night in one of the most amazing demonstrations the capital ever had seen. Clearly visible in windows hardly 75 yards apart, the "Savior of the Vaterland" and the new chancellor watched a great

They said the dog would recover.

NOTED ENGLISH NOVELIST DIES THIS MORNING

John Galsworthy, Winner of Nobel Prize is Called in London Home

LONDON, Jan. 31.—(UP)—John Galsworthy, dramatist and novelist, died today after a lingering illness.

The novelist died peacefully. His wife and nephew and members of his household, including the cook and chauffeur, were at his bedside.

Galsworthy, who was 65, contracted a chill last November and developed an illness which he never completely shook off. His death was ascribed directly to uremia, an outgrowth of the original illness.

His illness prevented him from going to Stockholm to receive the Nobel prize for literature which had been awarded to him.

Shaw and Kipling were the only other British authors awarded the prize.

The novelist died at his home in Hampstead, a quiet residential section of northwest London.

Galsworthy was one of the two most widely read British novelists, sharing popular honors with H. G. Wells.

Character portrayal was the feature of Galsworthy's plays. He was the first British dramatist to allow his characters an entirely natural manner of speaking. His best known plays were "The Silver Box," "Justice," "Loyalities," and "Escape."

Galsworthy was born at Combe, Surrey, Aug. 14, 1867. His father was a distinguished and wealthy London barrister and Galsworthy chose the law as a profession after his education at Harrow and New College, Oxford. But he found the law tiring and started a world cruise, during which he did his first serious writing, in 1893.

His first novel, "Jocelyn," appeared in 1898, but he did not receive wide attention until publication of "The Island of Pharos" in 1906.

Galsworthy's wide travels often took him to the United States. He spent several winters in Arizona. Joseph Conrad was one of his closest friends. Galsworthy met Conrad in the South Seas during his first world cruise.

Galsworthy worked hard at his writing. He considered himself a novelist before a playwright. He produced 20 novels, almost as many plays, and a large number of short stories.

Mix, denying reaching such an agreement with Miller, offered testimony by circus experts in an effort to prove he was not a valuable circus attraction.

New French Cabinet Is Acceptable

Plan Drafted to Meet Financial Crisis; May Win Over Socialists

PARIS, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Edouard Daladier completed formation of a cabinet today and drafted a new plan to meet the financial crisis which, it was believed, would be acceptable to both the chamber of deputies and the senate.

The government hoped to win support of the socialists, who overthrew the last two governments and declined to participate in the new one, by reducing taxes which the last government proposed to levy on small businesses, and by fixing the estimated deficit lower than estimates of Henry Cheron, finance minister in the last cabinet.

The government may agree to the socialist plan to meet part of the deficit with a loan, instead of by increased taxation.

Daladier announced his cabinet as follows: Premier and minister of war—Deputy Edouard Daladier, radical-socialist.

Vice-premier and minister of justice—Sen. Eugene Poincaré, independent.

Minister of foreign affairs—Sen. Joseph Paul-Boncour, independent.

Minister of finance—Deputy George Bonnet, radical-socialist.

Minister of budget—Deputy Lucien Lamoureux, radical-socialist.

Minister of interior—Deputy Camille Chautemps, radical-socialist.

Minister of navy—Deputy George Leygues, radical-socialist.

Minister of air—Deputy Premier Cot, radical-socialist.

Minister of colonies—Sen. Albert Sarraut, radical-socialist.

Minister of labor—Deputy Francois Albert, radical-socialist.

Minister of public instruction—Deputy Anatole Demonzie, radical-socialist.

Minister of agriculture—Deputy Henri Queuille, radical-socialist.

Minister of merchant marine—Deputy Pierre Frot, radical-socialist.

OIL PRORATION SUPPORTED IN OKLAHOMA COURT RULING

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 31.—(UP)—The Oklahoma supreme court today placed a powerful new weapon in the hands of the corporation commission to enforce proration. It held the commission could shut down wells by district court injunction for oil curb violations.

Greatly broadening the powers of the corporation commission in oil conservation, the high tribunal reversed a three judge district court decision and held the lower court should have enjoined over production of the H. F. Wilcox Oil & Gas company wells in the Oklahoma City oil field.

The supreme court did not rule today on the Russell Petroleum company's case seeking to abolish military control of the oil curb setup in Oklahoma.

The opinion in the Wilcox case, appealed by the attorney judges here refused to hat on it on the grounds they had no jurisdiction, was written by Chief Justice Fletcher Riley and concurred in by the other eight justices.

Critics of military enforcement declared this new ruling might decrease, if not eliminate the necessity of national guardmen in the city field, since a shutdown of any properties could not be obtained by the corporation when curb rules are violated.

Action is expected next week on the Russell case, which is expected to bring a new clash between Gov. W. H. Murray and the court if military oil field rule is invalidated.

SENATOR URGES SUSPENSION OF FORECLOSURES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Senator Minority Leader Robinson suggested today that farm foreclosures be temporarily suspended pending enactment of more permanent farm relief legislation by congress.

Robinson appeared before a senate banking subcommittee at a hearing on the sweeping credit relief program he is sponsoring with the backing of powerful farm groups, the program's principal feature is a billion dollar credit pool.

In the belief such a program could not be enacted this session of congress he proposed as a temporary measure passage of the Hull bill. The bill provides for a two-year moratorium on mortgage interest and installments and delinquent taxes on mortgaged property in arrears more than a year. Under the Hull bill the Reconstruction Finance Corporation would be authorized also to loan up to $1,000,000,000 to farmers.

The press of short session legislation might preclude the passage of a full program before March 4, he said.

Meanwhile opposition to the domestic allotment bill continued to pile up before the senate agricultural committee.

Will J. Miller, past president of the Kansas Livestock association, declared the bill was "a scheme which by arbitrarily cutting production would attempt to club consumers into paying higher prices."

He recommended reduced taxes, scaling down of debts and a general strengthening of credit.

Fred J. Lingham, Lockport, N. Y., flour miller, predicted it would "distort" the price of wheat and wheat products.

INSURANCE FIRMS WILL AID FARMERS

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Other leading eastern life insurance companies were reported today to have joined the New York Life Insurance Co. in a decision to suspend foreclosure activities on mortgaged Iowa farms.

The companies have $200,000,000 invested in Iowa farm mortgages. The moratorium on foreclosures

Six Persons Required To Quiet Giant

John Aason Smashes Furniture and Terrifies Group of Nurses

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—(UP)—John Aason, nine-foot circus and film giant who weighs 460 pounds, went berserk in detention hospital today, smashed furniture and terrified nurses until six members of the staff overpowered him.

The huge man, believed suffering from an ailment of the pituitary gland, is so large and powerful that hospital attendants were hesitant when he leaped from his bed and began wrecking his quarters.

When carried from a hotel to an ambulance last night, he was said to be suffering from a brain tumor. His condition today, however, puzzled physicians.

"It is one of the most extraordinary cases on record," said Dr. J. C. Geiger, city health director, "and one that will attract the attention of the medical profession. I have called two internists from the University of California to study the case."

"We believe the chemical balance of the man's body has been disturbed by lack of sufficient extract from the ductless pituitary gland."

"Had one of these attacks, which produce extreme irritability, occurred while he was driving his car or walking the street in a crowd, there's no telling what might have happened."

Aason, 43 years old, is eight feet, ten inches tall. The hospital provided a special bed for him.

OLD SUTTER CLUB DESTROYED IN FIRE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Fire, believed of incendiary origin, early today destroyed the old California National Bank building, former home of the exclusive Sutter club and a landmark of Sacramento.

The four story structure, built in 1900 and no longer occupied except for a print shop, was engulfed by flames before firemen arrived. Loss was estimated at $100,000.

Police and firemen searched the ruins today in the belief sleeping itinerants, who frequented the vacant building, might have lost their lives.

GOVERNOR GRANTS REPRIEVE TO NEGRO

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 31.—(UP)—Pat Noble, Los Angeles Negro, under sentence to hang February 3 at Folsom prison, today was granted a reprieve until April 8 by Governor Rolph.

In a personal letter written to Noble, Governor Rolph said: "I want to give you every chance to prove you were not in the Texas penitentiary."

In the official reprieve the Governor pointed out he wanted an opportunity to study the report on the case just submitted to him by Clarence Morrill, chief of the state bureau of criminal identification.

CHINESE EMPLOYED ON LINER ARE HELD

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Twenty-two Chinese brought to this port by the Grace liner Santa Teresa, presumably engaged to work on Grace line ships out of New York, were detained by immigration authorities today when the ship docked, one day late out of San Francisco.

Seamen's unions complained to the United States labor department and other authorities, claiming the Chinese had been engaged to work at a few dollars a month, to the discrimination of American seamen.

NIGHT SENATE SESSIONS SEEN TO GET ACTION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Senate business was in a jam today and leaders threatened night sessions to obtain action.

Prohibition repeal, 3.05 per cent beer and wine, and a $500,000,000 unemployment relief bill await attention on the senate calendar.

Repeal and relief advocates are maneuvering for preferred position when the treasury-postoffice bill is disposed of.

In four days since the Democrats abandoned a spectacular but brief "taxpayers' filibuster" to balance the budget, the $961,000,000 treasury-postoffice bill has not been cut a penny. The nearest approach to any economy was the senate's refusal to add a $240,000 annual ocean mail subsidy to the bill.

Senator McKellar, Democrat of Tenn., had pending today an amendment which would reduce air mail subsidies from $19,000,000 to $9,500,000. Senator Blinnham, Republican, Conn., president of the National Aeronautics association, said it would wreck 40 per cent of the commercial air lines in the United States.

After long debate, Chairman Hale of the appropriations committee announced he would seek a night session tonight.

Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, will move to consider repeal after the treasury-postoffice bill is passed. His colleague, Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, wants at that time to take up the La Follette-Costigan $500,000,000 unemployment relief bill but expects repeal to take precedence.

"If we don't pass a repeal resolution before March 4," Blaine said, "there won't be any repeal until 1935. About 40 state legislatures will not meet again after this winter until 1935."

LAST OF MAROONED AUTOISTS RELEASED

LAKE ARROWHEAD, Calif., Jan. 31.—(UP)—The last of 2000 pleasure bent Southern Californians who craved a bit of snow and winter sports only to find themselves trapped by a raging blizzard, moved back to the warmer lowlands today.

Road crews bucked 15 foot drifts in a 24 hour battle before they were able to clear roads and dislodge 500 snowbound automobiles. Giant cauldrons of boiling water were poured over the machines before they could start down the mountainside under their own power.

The only casualties reported were a few cases of nervous exhaustion, frost bitten fingers and toes, and two carbon monoxide victims who were promptly revived. The motorists, who had been attracted here by a winter sports carnival, huddled together in their stranded cars to keep from freezing.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, Jan. 31. (To the Editor of The Register.) Well lets see what we got in today's press that will stand up till tomorrow. "Hundreds marooned by snow in Southern California mountains." Well that will be melted by tomorrow. "France throws overboard another government." Well that won't stand up for another day, and neither will their new government. "Roosevelt and Ambassador Lindsay of Great Britain reach understanding." Well that won't stand up any longer than the Senate hears about it. "Henry Ford licks the bankers again." Well that's not news, he has always licked 'em. If more concerns were owned individually like his and not formed just to sell stock, we would be better off. If your business is any good why do you want to let everybody in on it. Yours, WILL ROGERS.

R. F. C. CHIEF SAYS CREDIT IS WITHHELD

Pomerene Tells Committee Banks Refuse to Carry Burden of Rail Relief

COLLATERAL IS POOR

Investigation of Corporation Loans is Started by Senator Couzens

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Chairman Pomerene of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation charged before a senate subcommittee today that banks were putting cash and credit "in cold storage" and refusing to carry their burden of financing the country's railroads.

The subcommittee is investigating Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans to the roads in connection with the Couzens resolution to withhold further advances.

Chief Examiner Myles Kennedy of the R. F. C. said some of the collateral accepted by the corporation had no "market value" because it is not listed on any exchange.

Kennedy said the corporation accepted for a $39,000,000 Baltimore & Ohio loan collateral valued at $70,000,000 and that on December 10 its value had depreciated to $64,039,000.

Senator Goldsborough, Rep., Md., insisted that President Daniel Willard of the B. & O. be permitted to testify before the inquiry ends.

Pomerene, the first witness, said many Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans to roads "unfortunately are maturing," he said the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was endeavoring to compel banks to supply a greater proportion of rail credit.

"Do you mean commercial or investment banks?" Chairman Couzens asked.

"I don't distinguish between the two," Pomerene replied.

"I mean the banks that regard themselves as reservoirs of credit and take the cash in the community and after they get it they treat it as though it were in cold storage."

GALE HELPS BOAT ESCAPE

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Jan. 31.—(UP)—A gale which swept the Southern California coast last Saturday unintentionally brought about the release of the 90-foot bait boat, Acacia, held at Ensenada, the Mexican government since October, it was learned here today.

THREE CONVICTS IN FOLSOM ARE KILLED

FOLSOM PRISON, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Rainfall which had loosened a layer of rock and earth at the top of the 120 foot cliff was blamed today for the two disastrous landslides in the Folsom prison quarry that crushed three convicts to death and endangered 800 others.

Panic stricken prisoners at work in the quarry had but a brief moment to dash to safety when the weakened layer, estimated at 400 tons, broke from the cliff with a dull roar and came thundering down.

U. S. STEEL DIVIDEND IS CUT TO 50 CENTS

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(UP)—The United States Steel corporation today reduced its annual $7 dividend on preferred stock, smashing a precedent of 32 years' standing.

OFFICIAL OF GOVERNMENT IS HELD FOR TRIAL

SENATOR URGES SUSPENSION OF FORECLOSURES

With just a few hours left before the statute of limitation ran out, Fred Knutson, 45, of 4872 Carmelita avenue, Hollywood, was held to answer to the superior court from Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning on a grand theft charge. Bail of $1000 was ordered, which he made.

Knutson, prominent Los Angeles business man, is a federal receiver in bankruptcy.

Three years ago on February 1, he is alleged to have been an agent for the Pruitt-Fisher corporation selling shares in the Fontana Poultry Industry. At that time, according to the complaint, he sold Mrs. Mary C. Ferguson, of 218 Geneva street, Huntington Beach, such a plan. She is alleged to have put up the $300 and she claimed that other than a $7 dividend received, she has heard nothing more about her money invested.

Attorney A. S. Wolfe, of Los Angeles, who represented Knutson here at his preliminary examination, which was held without an arraignment, due to the fact that Knutson was not arrested until last night, attempted to have the same continued until Thursday on the grounds that he would be several witnesses that he would want to subpoena.

By that time, the statute of limitation would have expired, and in spite of the fact that the defendant was told that he had a right to subpoena any witnesses he thought necessary in his own defense, Justice Morrison ruled that he still would have a chance to present these witnesses in court and that there still would be sufficient doubt, even if the testimony were held today, therefore Knutson was held to answer.

The complaining witness in the case, Mrs. Ferguson, did not report her trouble to the district will last, it was understood, until the Iowa legislature enacts its program for relief of debtors. There was no indication that the suspension of foreclosures would be extended as a general policy to other states, although the companies were represented as being anxious to avoid foreclosures on farms whose owners, though unable to meet their obligations, were keeping up the property and showed a willingness to cooperate with the mortgage holders.

RADIO MEASURE WILL UNDERGO SOME CHANGES

Santa Ana's proposed new radio interference ordinance sponsored by O. A. Jacobs, attorney, is still in the making.

A new ordinance differing from the one which was proposed by Jacobs is to be worked out by Jacobs and Franklin G. West, attorney representing a number of doctors here, and this will be presented to the council within the next few days.

This was the decision reached by the council and a committee of doctors and dentists yesterday afternoon at a meeting, following strenuous complaints made by the doctors over the first ordinance proposed by Jacobs.

Their complaint was that the ordinance singled their profession out as the interferers and they are of the opinion that the ordinance should cover every form of interference, if any.

West declared today that no plans had been made for drafting the new ordinance but that he and Jacobs would have a meeting in a few days at which time an agreement would probably be reached.

attorney's office until late yesterday afternoon. That gave the district attorney's office only today to arrest their man, get him bound over to the superior court, for the law reads that information must be filed in the superior court by the end of the third year.

A hurried warrant was sent out for Knutson and fast work by the Los Angeles police department caused his arrest at his home early last night. He was turned over to deputy sheriffs who returned him to Santa Ana last night and his preliminary examination was staged this morning.

JUDGE REVERSES RULE AND SENDS BOY'S AUTO TO JAIL

A new wrinkle in punishing speeders was employed by Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison yesterday when Hubert Marston, of 901 North Dickie street, Anaheim, pleaded guilty to speeding 55 miles an hour.

Instead of sending Marston to jail, as has been the custom for fast drivers, Justice Morrison put the car "in jail" for 30 days.

The car is owned by the youth's father, A. C. Marston. Justice Morrison is today of the opinion that if young Marston speeds during the next month, it will be in some car other than the one owned by his father.

Marston was sentenced to serve five days or ordered to put the car in the garage for 30 days. He chose the latter course.

LITTLE LOOT OBTAINED IN 4 BURGLARIES

Two burglaries in the city of Santa Ana and two in the county were reported during the past 24 hours.

Two of the burglaries, those of service stations were committed in the same manner, leaving officers to believe that both were committed by the same person.

A thief who broke into the Ray Edwards service station at South Main street and St. Gertrude's place, took three cartons of cigarettes, 75 pennies, $3 in nickels and a watch. It was reported. A small panel of glass was broken out, allowing the thief to place his hand on the inside and unlatch the spring lock.

This same method of procedure was employed by a burglar who broke into the service station operated by R. C. Carlton, at the Santa Ana Country club some time last night. One hundred and twenty-five pennies and 12 cartons of cigarettes were taken.

Thieves who broke into the Centralia school building located between Cypress and Buena Park last night stole a motor, used to pump water for the school, the sheriff's office was informed.

Burglars failed to take anything of value in the home of Fred Tim, at 1318 Orange avenue early last night. When members of the family returned home, they found the entire house had been ransacked.

The torch light parade broke up shortly after midnight. Hitler then went to the Kaiserhof hotel.

DEATH CALLS EXECUTIVE OF S. A. COMPANY

Death, coming suddenly yesterday to John M. Cloyes, 55, 622 South Van Ness avenue, brought to a close the career of one of the city's well known business men and one of the prominent members of Southern California. His passing was a shock to relatives and friends, for while he has been in poor health following a nervous breakdown in March, 1931, his condition was not considered precarious.

Born in Lancaster, Kansas, on March 17, 1877, John M. Cloyes was educated in the schools of his native city and in the University of Kansas where he received his B. A. degree and where he was affiliated with Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. On October 23, 1901, he was married in Atchison, Kans., to Miss Edith Alice Noble, and the young couple lived in Kansas City until 1917. He was in the railroad business, connected first with the old "Frisco lines," then successively with the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, and the Missouri Pacific. In the latter company he reached the position of general agent for the passenger department, resigning the work only to come to Santa Ana where other members of the Cloyes family had located.

He entered the Roehm-Sylvester company as secretary and for the past two years had been manager of the company. Masonry was one of his chief interests, and he had served Santa Ana Commandery, K. T. as commander after filling the various offices successively. He became a Noble of the Mystic Shrine in Leavenworth, Kans., later transferring his membership to Al Malekah temple, Los Angeles.

His parents, formerly of this city, both preceded him in death, but he is survived by one sister, Miss Inez Cloyes, 808 South Birch street, in addition to his widow, F. H. Cloyes, of Santa Ana, is a cousin.

Mrs. Cloyes' uncle, John M. Rossi of St. Paul, who is spending the winter in Long Beach, is here to assist her and Miss Inez Cloyes in making arrangements for the final rites. These will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in the Smith and Tutthill chapel, with the Rev. W. J. Hatter, rector of the Church of the Messiah in charge. Masonic rites in Fairhaven cemetery will be in charge of Santa Ana lodge No. 241, F. and A. M., directed by Stanley Chapman.

RESIGNATION OF TEACHER ACCEPTED

The resignation of Miss Mabel Miller, teacher at the Edison school was accepted last night by the Santa Ana board of education to become effective at the end of this week. Miss Miller is resigning for the purpose of completing her thesis at University of Southern California on "Errors in Handwriting."

She has agreed to complete the present week at Edison school. Enrollment at the school has decreased to the point where it will not be necessary to replace Miss Miller at this time. Superintendent Frank Henderson said.

Retired Officer Is Given Badge

Col. W. F. Nicholson, former regular army officer who now lives at 1901 Heliotrope Drive, was last night appointed as a special police officer in Santa Ana without pay. The council made him an officer at the request of Police Commissioner E. G. Warner and Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard.

with a membership of more than 70,000 farmers, today announced it would take no part in threatened recall proceedings against Governor Ralph.

Reputating reports that the committee was a party to the recall movement, Ralph H. Taylor, executive secretary of the committee, said:

"This committee is strictly a non-partisan farm organization, devoted to safeguarding the interests of California agriculture in state and national legislation. It has consistently refrained from opposing or supporting candidates for political office and will continue to follow this policy."

Taylor's statement was followed by one from William C. McCarthy, secretary to the governor, who declared the recall movement was a plot to embarrass the governor.

SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY IN DIVORCE CASE

Sensational testimony relative to his wife's relations with Emil Long, Orange barber, this morning marked the opening session of Harvey P. Riggie's suit for divorce from Mrs. Ruth Riggie. Riggie was on the witness stand during the entire morning session before Presiding Judge G. K. Scofield.

Riggie, responding to questions asked by his attorney, J. B. Tucker, told of trailing his wife and Long on the night of November 28, last, on an automobile ride through the streets of Orange and of what transpired after the car was parked in the shadow of a cedar hedge on Vista street, about two miles from town.

He also told of another incident on December 5, the night he and his wife finally separated, when his father, Under Sheriff Riggie and Deputy Sheriff Earl Nickles witnessed another impassioned scene.

Riggie also testified that his wife first became cold to him when she returned, five years ago, from an extended trip to the east with her father.

FOUR PERSONS INJURED; THREE AUTOS WRECKED

Four persons were reported injured in three automobile accidents in Santa Ana and the county during the past 24 hours.

Carl Teeter, 35, of 147 West Whittier avenue, Whittier, and Bertha Yudlevitz, 50, of 316 South Pecan street, Los Angeles, were injured when three cars piled up on Highway No. 101, 600 feet west of Hacienda road at 9:40 o'clock last night.

According to a report filed with the California highway patrol, a car operated by Earl Fores, 35, of 230 North Chicago street, Los Angeles, had stopped so that repairs could be made to the vacuum tank. It was struck from the rear by a car driven by Robert Teeter, 19, of Whittier, and the wreckage of these two machines was struck by an automobile driven by Fred Chappell, of 154 Lindley street, Pico.

All three cars were demolished. Those injured were not believed to have been badly hurt.

Fred Lentz, 36, employee of the Orange County Automobile club, suffered cuts and bruises when the car he was driving at Golden West avenue, on Ocean avenue, was reported struck by a car driven by Shuku Kono, of 1639 Reeve avenue, Long Beach. The crash was head on.

The Lentz machine left the road and crashed into a telephone pole and the light delivery truck driven by the Japanese, overturned at the side of the road.

H. W. Gross, 47, of 1126 North Flower street, suffered a broken leg in front of the Main Service garage at 614 North Main street last night when he was knocked from the bicycle he was riding by an automobile driven by Lewis N. Pemberton, employee of the U. S. Rubber company, of Los Angeles.

Pemberton was driving out of the garage to the street at the time of the accident. Gross was taken to his home.

AVOCADO MEN HOLD SESSION ON MARCH 10

The annual Orange County Avocado Growers' Institute will be held March 10 at La Habra, it was declared by the executive committee of the Avocado Growers' department of the Orange County Farm Bureau at a meeting held yesterday.

A program dealing with marketing and cultural problems will be presented. Speakers invited to address the growers include J. B. Brown, irrigation specialist, University of California; George E. Hodgkin and Ed Humason, Calavo Growers' association; H. J. Quayle, entomologist, experiment station; Harold E. Wahlberg, farm advisor, Orange county; W. R. Schoonover, specialist, University of California, and others.

The new officers of the avocado department are Austin Marshburn, Yorba Linda, chairman, and Ray Prantz, La Habra, secretary. The La Habra committee in charge of accommodations and registration at the institute includes Ray Prantz, R. E. Launer and Ed Leutwyler.

Activities for the year will feature educational field tours for avocado growers, top-working demonstrations, windbreak protection and production cost studies. These activities are in co-operation with the farm advisor, representing the University of California in Orange county.

NUT GROWERS NAME SMILEY AS CHAIRMAN

J. A. Smiley, West Orange, was re-elected chairman of the Orange County Farm Bureau Walnut department, which recently met in the farm advisor's office to organize for the new year. A. J. McPadden, of Santa Ana, and Smiley were reappointed delegates to the Inter-county Walnut Growers' conference, and Harold E. Wahlberg, farm advisor, was elected secretary.

Members of the executive committee of the department represent the various walnut areas of the county. The committee includes Dan S. Halladay, Placentia; J. A. Smiley, West Orange; J. W. Sauer, Tustin; Dr. H. D. Cook, Anaheim; Rufus Porter, Orange; S. M. Bathgate, San Juan Capistrano; Andrew Smiley, Garden Grove; Chas. Knowlton, Fullerton, and A. J. McPadden, Santa Ana.

TRIAL STARTS FOR 'KLAN RAID' GROUP

Difficulties in selecting a jury proved a stumbling block today in attempts of the state to offer a speedy trial for 15 men, seven of them from Orange county, accused of invading the Long Beach home of David Milder and attacking him and his guests.

Numerous members of the venire were excused because of professed views on the Ku Klux Klan or Communism, which are expected to be linked by prosecution or defense in presenting a case. It was expected that the entire day would be required in selection of the jury.

Orange county defendants in the case are: Clarence H. Brooks, Ernest A. Buttram, James Henry Russell, Dale H. Elliott, Clyde A. Dunn, Walter R. Brooks, and Waldo King. Sixteen men were indicted in connection with the charges of conspiracy to commit an assault with a deadly weapon, but one was never apprehended.

It is indicated that the prosecution will claim that the raid on the Milder home was conducted by members of the Klan laboring under the belief that the victims were Communists.

Police News

An automobile owned by C. H. Wagner, of Los Banos, Calif., was found abandoned late yesterday in front of 1139 West Second street. Police were told the car had been there two days. The police learned the car was stolen and is being held for the owner.

Howard H. Barker, 19, of 318 South Flower street, was lodged in the county jail last night by Santa Ana police officers on a petty theft charge. Police said he admitted he stole a suit of clothes from his roommate, Bert T. Culp. The suit was worth $40, they said.

Half frozen and hungry, Charles Schultz, 19, San Francisco, was taken off a north-bound passenger train here last night, riding the brake rods. He was lodged in the county jail, where he was given food and blankets. He is charged with vagrancy.

Charged with non-support of minor children, Harry D. Humphrey, 21, truck driver, of Brea, was lodged in the county jail late yesterday by Ed Marion, Anaheim constable.

M. Mooris, 59, of Los Angeles, was arrested this morning by Santa Ana police officers and lodged in the county jail on a drunk charge.

Offers To Work For County At Lower Pay Rate

In a letter addressed to the board of supervisors and read during the morning session today E. R. Hall of Anaheim offered to assist the county in its economy program by working as a member of the highway patrol for $175 per month. The rate now is more than $200.

Hall state din his letter that he had read of the supervisors' effort to reduce expenses and of recent salary slashes and he was willing to work as a member of the highway patrol for the amount mentioned. The letter was ordered filed.

In a letter from the Orange County Council, American Legion, that organization notified the board that it was opposed to any reduction in state aid for schools.

The chamber of commerce taxation committee, headed by Jack Wallace, is expected to make a report at the meeting. The committee has been making an analysis of how the tax dollar is spent in Orange county.

It is probable, according to Secretary George A. Raymer, that no president will be chosen to succeed Charles Rutledge, who was forced to retire because of ill health, until the March elections. O. H. Barr, first vice president, will preside at tomorrow's session.

WOMAN FINE FOR RIMPAP. ON CHARGE OF PIONEER OF DRUNK DRIVING COUNTY. DIES

Mrs. P. Kelton, of Orange, arrested at Seventeenth street and Broadway on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, appeared in the Santa Ana police court yesterday afternoon and pleaded guilty to the charge.

She was fined $200 by Judge J. G. Mitchell, who then released her until February 1, in order to give her time to raise the fine money. Judge Mitchell said she was due in his court at that time to pay the entire fine.

Other cases in police court yesterday included: Arch Robinson, drunk, 20 days; Ernest Gracian, drunk, suspended sentence; Howard Kowen, drunk, 15; Allen Wilson, vagrancy, ten days; Frank Wallace, vagrancy, five days, suspended; Pat Jones, vagrancy, pleaded not guilty and case set for February 2. Bail of $100 was demanded which he did not make.

Fred C. Rimpap, 78, one of the early settlers of Anaheim passed away at his home, 904 West Broadway, Anaheim, last night.

For approximately 70 years Mr. Rimpap had been a familiar figure in Anaheim. For the last 25 years he has been treasurer of the local lodge of the Fraternal Brotherhood.

He was born on March 13, 1855 in Los Angeles and was the son of the late Theodore Rimpap. Mr. Rimpap is survived by two sons, James A. of Hollywood and Frank E. of Alhambra and two daughters, Mrs. Marie Alexander, of Los Angeles, and Miss Sophie Rimpap, of Anaheim. He also was the uncle of Robert Stephen, Agnes Rimpap and Mrs. Claudia Clarke, all of Anaheim.

Funeral services have not yet been completed.

REQUESTS OF UNEMPLOYED ARE DENIED

Supervisor John Mitchell reported this morning to the board of supervisors that he has advised Welfare Director B. V. Curry not to grant the petition of the Fullerton unemployed group in co-operation with the Welfare department.

Mitchell said that the recommendation was made after a check of records of the Fullerton group revealed that the number of indigents listed in that community was less than 50 per cent of the amount claimed in the report submitted by the unemployed group at the time the application was filed.

In view of this finding, Mitchell said that he was of the opinion that operation of a commissary would prove too costly in the matter of clerical and delivery help required, insurance on trucks and depreciation in materials to be distributed.

The unemployed group had requested the welfare department to abandon the plan of issuing grocery orders to indigents in Fullerton and to establish a commissary in the community. The order, according to the petition would be issued to the indigents but would be filled at the commissary instead of at individual groceries. The Unemployed group pointed out that by this procedure supplies could be purchased at a greatly reduced rate than when orders are filled at retail prices and would make it possible to serve the indigents with better balanced rations.

Praises Work Mitchell also recommended that the proposal of supplying unemployed groups in the county with transportation for the purpose of gathering food supplies be turned down. In making this recommendation he said that it was made not because of any lack of desire to help the unemployed groups, but, because, after thorough investigation, it was found that funds could not legally be expended for this purpose.

Mitchell said that the law declares that welfare funds must be expended for indigents and defines the term "indigent". Many of the people being assisted through the unemployed groups, he said, do not come under this classification. In making his recommendation Mitchell said that the unemployed organizations of the county are doing a wonderful work for the needy and are saving the taxpayers considerable money. The only reason for his recommendation, he said, was that to provide transportation for these groups would require illegal expenditure of funds and would make the board liable should any taxpayer choose to protest the action.

TERM CHANGE FOR TRUSTEES TO BE SOUGHT

When the state legislature convenes a bill prepared by Mr. Margaret Baker and Rolla Hays will be presented seeking a change in the County Government act as it relates to election of school trustees.

The amendment to be sought will provide for long and short terms for trustees instead of the present method of electing an entire new board every three years. The amendment was suggested by Superintendent of Schools Frank A. Henderson who said that the long and short term system would tend toward greater efficiency and ease in functioning on the part of the board.

Henderson said that under the present election provision an entire new school board takes office every three years. This necessitates a period while the board members familiarize themselves with routine and procedure. Under the proposed amendment there would always be

Jobless Need Donation For License

Unless some public-spirited citizen or organization donates $11 to purchase a license for the bus used by the Unemployed Association of Santa Ana, members of the association will be deprived of its use in collecting surplus funds and in carrying men back and forth to the community gardens and to the woodyard, it was stated today by officials of the association.

An appeal was made today for a donation to cover the cost of obtaining a license for the old bus, which was formerly used as a school bus and has been loaned to the association by the Santa Ana Bus service. The Unemployed Association is located at 917 North Main street and the telephone number is 5610.

experienced members on the board. The matter of the proposed amendment to the County Government act will be discussed with State Senator Nelson T. Edwards and Assemblymen Ted Craig and James Utt at a meeting to be arranged with trustees from all districts in the county.

Relative to the proposed meeting of trustees and legislators, Henderson advised the Santa Ana board of education to oppose any proposed legislation tending to reduce the equalization of school support. He said that any reduction in county support for the schools would be costly for the Santa Ana system.

Local Bank Team Loses Decision

The debating team of the Orange County Chapter of the American Institute of Banking went down to defeat last night as the result of a meeting with the debating team from the Los Angeles chapter. The debate was on the subject of making judges' terms for life contingent upon competency and good behavior. J. A. Cranson, A. M. Bradley and E. T. McFadden acted as judges for the event which was held in the junior high school auditorium. The team from Los Angeles Thursday night to meet affirmative and negative teams on the sales tax question.

New Appraisal Firm Is Formed

A new organization, the Orange County Appraisal company, has been formed with offices in Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton. Three realtors have combined to form the new organization, Stanley E. Goode, of Santa Ana, C. C. Sidman, of Anaheim, and Lloyd Hulbert, of Fullerton. The company plans to operate in the determination of values for various purposes.

FIXTURES FOR CITY MUSEUM ARE ORDERED

Electrical fixtures costing $900 for the new Bowers Memorial Museum at Twentieth and North Main streets were ordered purchased last night by the city council.

The order was given after an executive meeting of the council was held yesterday afternoon at which time the council was shown a number of different designs suggested for the building which had been presented previously to the Bowers Memorial Museum committee and the approval of the purchase made by that committee.

The contract for handling the fixtures was given to the Cope Electric company of Santa Ana. The successful bidder for the project, the council did not open the bids, this having been done by the Memorial committee some time ago.

OPEN BIDS FOR TANK AND PUMP

Bids on a new city pump and tank to be used for the city's Olive street water well, were opened by the city council last night, but none accepted. All were referred to the city engineer for checking and no action is expected for two weeks.

There were eleven bids on the pump in the price neighborhood of $2800 and six bids on the tank which ran from $1053 to $1554. All bidders were out-of-town companies.

YANKEE NETMEN TO INVAD N. ZEALAND

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 31.—(INS)—America's touring tennis team, which concluded its participation in the Australian championships here yesterday, will sail from Sidney Thursday to New Zealand for another series of matches. They expect to leave New Zealand Feb. 14 to compete in the Hawaiian championships at Honolulu, returning to the United States by March 1.

Council Notes

No action was taken by the council last night on a request that the alley between Main and Sycamore street in the 1500 and 1600 blocks be opened for use. The matter was brought up at which time it was referred to the street commissioner. He asked for another week's time for investigation.

Request of D. M. Hutton to open a beauty parlor in her home, 1018 West Sixth street, was denied by the council last night. It had been under discussion for the past three weeks. The planning commission recommended the council deny the request.

Dr. John McAulay, who three weeks ago requested the city to allow him to open his offices in his home, 627 Orange avenue, asked last night to withdraw the request. The planning commission had failed to approve of the plan.

FINANCE SITUATION STILL PERPLEXES SCHOOL BOARD; MAY ESCAPE PAY CUT PLAN

Following a week of investigation, members of the Santa Ana board of education were no nearer a solution of their financial problem when they met last night than at the outset. They do see a ray of light, however, and there is a possibility that it may not be necessary to ask teachers to take a voluntary cut in pay.

The special committee, Rolla Hays and M. B. Youel, appointed to investigate the exact financial status of school funds due through apportionment of city and county taxes, was continued for one week and an audit on the actual delinquency in city taxes ordered. The committee and Budget Director Everett Joynton will report on the exact status of school finances at the next board meeting scheduled for February 14.

Pending the outcome of the investigation, Superintendent of Schools Frank A. Henderson was instructed to inform all teachers that the board of education has no actual figures on the amount of delinquency but that as soon as they are available the teachers will be notified and that further pay cuts will not be made this year unless absolutely necessary.

Delinquency Reported
The furor over shortage of school finances was created after school officials had been informed, a week ago, that city taxes are approximately 14 per cent delinquent for the first installment. According to a report submitted by Youel and Henderson they interviewed one of County Auditor William Lambert's deputies and were informed that the situation was not so bad as school officials feared. They were also informed that it was the auditor's opinion that, with care, the board would be able to carry through.

The same committee interviewed Deputy District Attorney William Menton relative to the school law in the matter of expenditures. The law declares that after April 1 funds must not be expended unless there is sufficient money set aside to cover teachers' salaries for the balance of the school year. Menton expressed his opinion that reasonable minimum expenditures for keeping schools open and operating would not come within the scope of this prohibition. This opinion was confirmed by Los Angeles county counsel where their practice has conformed to this interpretation.

Regarding the possibility of registering teachers' salary warrants the committee reported that in other districts where funds have been inadequate, tax anticipation

SWING GIVES ADVICE ABOUT GETTING LOAN

The city council last night heard a letter from Congressman Phil Swing, regarding the proposed plan to borrow $15,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation for the creating of labor at the Municipal Bowl, in which Swing gave several pointers as to how the money could be obtained.

He stated that he had taken the matter up with the proper authorities in Washington, but that a formal application would have to be filed, and that the corporation would need much more information than he now has at this time. He insisted that the corporation would have to be shown that the bowl would be a self liquidating proposition and suggested that the city send copies of contracts with various athletic organizations showing they intended to use the bowl, such as the high school, the junior college, the night baseball association and the Southern California Motorcycle association.

The city also would be forced to show, he said how it expects to pay the upkeep on the bowl. Swing stated that the interest rate on the money probably would be five or six per cent.

The letter, addressed to Mayor Paul Witmer, was ordered received and filed.

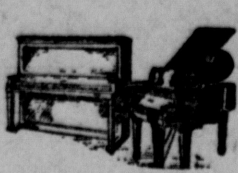

NO RESPECT FOR LAW
HOUSTON, Tex.—The thief who tried to make away with Deputy Marshal Neal Polk's car surely had a lot of nerve. Polk stepped out of a building in time to see a man tinkering with the lock on the door of his car. "Just a minute," he yelled out. "I've got a key that fits that lock." The man was arrested for trying to steal Polk's car, which had a pair of handcuffs snapped to the wheel and was parked in a space "Reserved for United States Marshal."

A great tribute to a good gasoline! Without millions of dollars in advertising, without a single "company-controlled" service station—on value alone—ECONOMY Guaranteed First Grade Gasoline stands in the front ranks of gasoline popularity. Look at the chart. See how motorists have increased their purchases of Economy Gasoline during the past 7 years. Surely there must be a reason worth looking into.

It's your turn now. Try a tankful of this guaranteed first grade gasoline. You'll like the service of the Independent who sells it too...a local citizen and merchant. You too will agree that Economy is the best gasoline value that money can buy regardless of price, brand or grade.

— News Behind the News —

WASHINGTON
By Paul W. Mason

CABINET

Mr. Roosevelt is doing a little hair-tearing of his own on his cabinet. While he is still smiling to all callers and saying "Fine, fine, fine" he has run into his first major difficulty. None of his advisers have been smart enough yet to figure it out. There are strong indications he will delay with it indefinitely to see whether the problem will settle itself.

Most of the trouble comes from trying to satisfy both conservative and progressive wings which supported him in the last campaign. A fever was put out from his courage during the Washington suit suggesting Owen D. Young as secretary of state or treasury. Immediately progressives flocked to him in private protest. A certain progressive Democrat senator informed the president-elect, your administration would be nullified at the outset by such an appointment.

To ease that situation trial balloons were floated for two progressive Republicans, Senator Cutting of New Mexico and former Gov. LaFollette of Wisconsin. These two could not see their way clear to cut their old party ties. The private version offered by Mr. Roosevelt's friends is that they "put on their high hats and walked out."

Every angle of the situation is as complicated as the above related incidents. Certain ideal appointments cannot be made. Two good senators are too old. Two other progressive Republican senators have declined to serve. The A. F. of L. is raising Cain about the labor post. Some of the most prominent men in the party have pleaded they cannot leave their business in time like these. One prospective appointee to a key position confessed his financial would prevent him from serving.

If you can figure out what should be done in a mess like that you ought to be president-elect.

Some things are very evident in the underlying situation. One is that a compromise is probably impossible. In the end the president-elect may be required to take out the big stick and lay down the law to those he wants to serve. In doing that he will disregard those who are putting pressure on him now. It will cause plenty of dissatisfaction but that will come sooner or later anyhow.

BUDGET

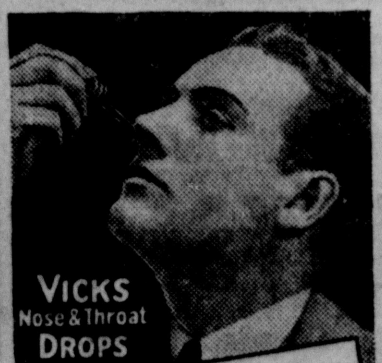

The big board of best minds that Mr. Roosevelt carries around to do his thinking is dead set against the general Washington view that the budget should be strongly balanced.

Most of the college professors and prominent men on the board expressed themselves 16 months ahead of time in theoretical book-keeping. They point out it will require the heaviest taxes this country ever had, even including war times. They are convinced other ways should be followed to maintain confidence in government finances. They suggest strong economies.

These theories are too new for public expression yet. But you will hear plenty about them if you do not actually experience them soon after March 4.

The only question is whether opponents of the scheme can raise enough of a rumpus to stop it.

The way the Roosevelt board of best minds works with the president-elect is something entirely new in politics.

They do their thinking about the issues for weeks. Then he assembles them either singly or in groups. They air their views freely. He drinks it all in, memorizes amazingly, and says "Yes, yes" and then does what he pleases.

He lets them do the preliminary thinking for him. He makes the decisions.

That "Yes, yes" trait of the president-elect is probably the background of some ill-founded rumors you are now hearing about Muscle Shoals.

The strongest inner pressure is being exerted on him to get him away from the Norris bill for optional government operation of that power project. Men come to him apparently to talk on other subjects only to slip in an objection to government operation. He has told some of them "Yes, yes" but it does not mean anything.

There is every fundamental reason to believe he will espouse the Norris bill in his inaugural address. The endorsement may even go so far as to call for government ownership of the transmission lines.

That will give the power companies something to think about.

Mr. Hoover is paying off political favors and making new political friends by sending up to the senate thousands of nominations for public office when he knows they cannot be confirmed.

No nominations have been or will be confirmed this session. The Democrats have served such notice and Republicans can do nothing about it. Yet the stream of new names for postmasterhips that are not available continues to pour into the senate from the White House.

The strategy is probably helping Mr. Hoover and Postmaster General Walter Brown to keep a closer hand on the party personnel.

BEER

The 3.05 per cent beer content idea came from Senator Dill. He got it out of the British tax law. They tax beer of more than that amount of alcoholic content. Sweden taxes everything above 3.6 per cent, figuring that as the point of intoxication.

The house bill split the difference at 3.2 per cent which probably is about right.

NOTES

One argument that is to be used strongly against inflation is that probably eleven billions of refunding may be done this year.

About six billion in Liberties come up in October; three billion of short terms must be reissued and two billion of another batch of Liberties are due March 15. The banks may be able to dictate to the government on inflation with that much refinancing coming up. Senator Norris was planning to make a speech against those who had held up his lame duck amendment for so long. He called it off recollecting that they were all dead, Presidents Harding and Coolidge and former Speaker of the House Nicholas Longworth. Democratic congressmen are sobbing because Senator McKellar secured publication of all the civil service jobs now open. It means that all applicants know now just what jobs are open and there can be no fooling about it.

NEW YORK

LOTIAN

Great significance is attached to the visit here of Lord Lotian (better known as Philip Kerr). Right hand man of Lloyd George during the Versailles Peace conference, he has long played a prominent role in British and international affairs. As an unofficial emissary on debt settlement questions he will be top news in due course.

BRITAIN

There is a deep aura of mystery around Britain's gold transactions with this country. Twenty-five million dollars out of the 98 set aside in London for the federal Reserve bank in payment of the British debt installment has already been reclaimed from English sources. Also there have been no less than six earmarkings of local Federal Reserve gold for foreign account in the past few weeks. The Federal Reserve has gone to great pains to conceal the identity of the earmarker—which is also England.

The question as to where Britain gets the funds to buy this gold and what she wants with it are met with profound silence in official quarters. The answer to the first question is either:

(a) Britain was kidding us about her straitened financial condition, or

(b) She has obtained a sizeable open account loan from private bankers here. Private banking sources who know the answer are significantly silent.

As to why England wants the gold—it is known that powerful interests in Britain are dissatisfied with the climb of the pound and will do all they can to push it down again. Therefore if England sells sterling now and has the gold to buy it back again at lower levels she can roll up a sweet profit.

BANKS

Several New York banks have found England a suitable field for the investments that they cannot or will not make at home. They have bought healthy quantities of short term sterling maturities and have coupled these transactions with the sale of sterling for delivery on the maturity date at the prevailing current price. This way they are protected against fluctuations and can collect in full on the principal and interest of their investments.

The credit inflation program via excess reserves looks more and more like a bust. Loans and investments in the New York district are still rising but these items outside New York have dropped now for four weeks in a row. Last week's deflation amounted to 49 million dollars—of which 19 million in the Chicago district.

This is in line with Chicago Reserve bank policy. Relations between the federal Reserve banks and the two biggest cities are becoming more and more strained.

Continued failures of interior banks still arouse no apprehension in New York insofar as they may lead to renewed hoarding. The failures are explained in high quarters as partly due to a new joint policy of the R. F. C. and the Federal Reserve to let nature take its course instead of trying to save everything in sight. The narrower-boiled banking element here is strongly in favor of weak sister elimination.

It is ironic that several of the more recent victims had their portfolios packed with defaulted bonds—especially South Americans. These bonds were unloaded on their present holders by the large New York correspondents. New York itself has relatively few of them.

TRUSTS

Several large trust companies are paying undiminished dividends in spite of slumped earnings because of future prospects. These companies have estate trusts lined up which they are counting on as a definite source of income within the next five or ten years. Life expectancy tables bear them out. Quite a few estates are still worth plenty to administrators even after the last three years.

STEEL

U. S. Steel directors are concerned that a large amount of the corporation's preferred stock is held by charitable and other institutions. Discontinuance of the dividend would bring unhappy repercussions.

TECHNOCRACY

The split in technocratic ranks which threw Howard Scott out of the Columbia group has been brewing for some time. Scott's personality has grated on his collaborators. Matters came to a head when Scott was billed for a nation-wide radio hook-up and converted a swell opportunity into a terrible flop.

The two most respected advocates of Technocracy—Bassett Jones and E. L. Ackerman—were among the seceders. Their findings under a new name will get attention in high quarters.

MRS. F. D. R.

A friend asked Mrs. Roosevelt why she gave herself the grueling labor of going personally through the two or three hundred letters in her daily mail. "Why," she said, "it's the only way I can feel that I am in touch with every part of the country. Many of those letters contain valuable information. There are hints and suggestions which could not be obtained otherwise." Her public spirit has led her to enter into many fields, and has brought down on her head much criticism from those who do not understand Mrs. Roosevelt's motives.

Intimates of Mrs. F. D. R. say that her frequent lectures and other appearances are all made in her intense desire to be of service. The money she receives from her Friday evening talks over the radio for a commercial firm is divided among her charities. One half goes to the Unemployment Relief fund, and the remainder is given to the various organizations for helping the poor in which the First Lady-elect is especially interested. One of these is the Henry Street Nurses. None of this money is retained by the distinguished radio artist.

RADIO

R-K-O's troubles have focused wise attention on national broadcasting. Things there haven't been going so well lately. Altogether several hundred employees have been laid off.

High-ups in the industry believe that the Hearst interests may soon become a factor in the situation. It has been known for months that after March 4th Hearst had plans for bigger and better radio facilities. He may now drop plans to expand his station WINS if he can get into NBC with its coast-to-coast network.

ALLOTMENT

Funny things are being planned on the Allotment Farm Bill. The opposition lobby is strongly at work. An effort to wreck it will be made by some lukewarm friends of the bill. No haste is to be shown in the senate where Republicans are still in control. It is not their baby. Nevertheless the farm lobby seems to be strong enough to force favorable action before adjournment. That would only bring a presidential veto.

The bill is obviously doomed until the special session.

Several leading features of the tax and allotment plan were evolved by a New York economist, Dr. Paul P. Goussier, lately of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. Middle-western writers who have recently elaborated on the subject seem to have drawn on this material. It was made available to them over a year ago.

MANCHUKUO

New York advices from Shanghai indicate our state department may soon have a neat problem on its hands. American radio interests are at the moment making strenuous efforts to obtain a wireless monopoly from the new state of Manchukuo. German competition is cutting as close as a new razor blade.

The wily orientals are baiting the Americans along. They will be most happy to accommodate the prospective concessionaires can do something at home about recognition.

DISARMAMENT

The Germans have a surprise in store for the disarmament conference. With security uppermost in everybody's mind some of the smaller states are quietly preparing a resolution which would solemnly guarantee existing frontiers. The Germans are afraid that such a motion might be carried unanimously.

A rider will be offered exempting Germany's eastern frontier from any such declarations. No grief in that for the Germans because failure of the conference would enable them to proceed with their plans.

COOK JAYSEE TRACK SQUAD BEST IN YEARS and DELHI Fans Pick Young To Defeat Gutierrez

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

The athletes who gain a livelihood by riding bicycles, off and on, for six days and six nights, now find that they have to go to work.

With the admission prices cut to accommodate the friends who sit through these grinds, awake and asleep, hour after hour, it has become necessary to enlarge the circuit. The idea is: more money for fewer races for higher ticket prices. It's a simple idea and works out very well indeed for all concerned, even the peddlers themselves. Think of the experience!

Cities such as Cleveland, which the six-day people stayed away from in other years, are entertaining the bikers this year. The addition of Cleveland to the wheel, with a grand that begins January 29, implies that Promoter Tommy McGinty, who has confined his activities to fights and horse races for the most part, feels the urge to branch out. Mister McGinty and the American Legion have cooked up the first six-day races ever held in Ohio.

IRON MEN

They call Reggie McNamara, the ancient Australian, the Iron man of a sport that calls for iron men, and no others need apply. These bikers started work last August in Vancouver. Then, in succession, they appeared in Montreal, Toronto, Chicago, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, New York and Philadelphia.

Of course not all of the riders appeared at all the events. McNamara, who is beginning to feel the weight of his 45 years and 88 races, has cut down on his program. But only as far back as 1931, Reggie and Turchy Peden won the event at Madison Square Garden.

THAT'S WHEELING!

Mister Peden is a great help to any team. There is hardly a punce of extra fat on the man's 215-pound frame. He is built like a cable. It is a bit hard to imagine a 215-pound man whirling along on a slender looking bike at the rate of around 80 miles an hour, but this is the one who can do it.

A couple of years ago a dispute, prompted by pitiless publicity raged up and down the land, concerning the speed these cyclists can make. A test was arranged, Peden being paced for a mile, by an automobile.

One of the most amazing miles in history was the result. Peden whipped along over the mile in 44.4 seconds. Nearly half a minute faster than a race horse!

While that speed means a rate of 76 miles an hour, the machine pacing Peden was doing 41 when it roared across the finish tape, and Peden was breezing right along with it.

THE WORKING MAN

Peden established the remarkable record last year of winning five of these six-day races in nine weeks. When the managers and publicity puffers swooped down on Cleveland to smoke up the show, Peden was riding serenely in Germany.

In order to fulfill his contract and reach Cleveland in time for the races, Peden had to arrange for an airplane to meet the Bremen 500 miles out of port. That would drop him in Cleveland an hour before the show started. Which is figuring the clock pretty close.

HAMAS, RAMAGE TO BOX AGAIN FEB. 28

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Steve Hamas and Lee Ramage have been signed to meet in a local "elimination contest" to decide a winner who will meet Mickey Walker, Olympic auditorium officials announced today.

Hamas and Ramage have clashed twice previously with each holding a decision. The third match will be run off Feb. 28 and is scheduled for 10 rounds.

Olympic officials said Walker's manager, Jack Kearns, has "verbally" agreed that his charge would meet Hamas or Ramage.

PRICE IN LINE FOR OLYMPIC CLUB POST

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Clarence ("Nibs") Price, University of California basketball coach and former gridiron mentor, today was being prominently mentioned as the next football coach for the San Francisco Olympic club team.

BACK TO THE MINORS

Jesse Hill, New York Yankee outfielder, has been sent back to the Newark farm of the Yanks for a little more seasoning.

Do You Remember

One Year Ago Today: Orange County basketball race by beating Tustin, 24-17. Anaheim won from Brea-Wind, 27-16. San Juan Capistrano defeated Newport Harbor, 24-7, and Garden Grove beat Huntington Beach, 22-10.

Five Years Ago Today: President Seth Bullock called a meeting of the Santa Ana Twilight Baseball league. Frank Bonnus, Arch Beach, killed a 150-pound fish with a throwed rock.

Ten Years Ago Today: Members of the Orange County Country club appointed a committee to consider the advisability of purchasing a site near Santa Ana for a new golf course. Preliminary surveys indicate a tract on Newport boulevard the most suitable of several available sites.

Henry Gatten, son of national young Santa Ana boxer, signed to fight Benny Demsko at Hollywood Friday night.

EXPERTS STILL STRING ALONG WITH MEXICAN

Although most of the experts are stringing with his hard-hitting opponent, Freddie Young today ruled a favorite over Pete Gutierrez in their main event at the Orange County Athletic club tonight.

Impressed by Young's decisive victory over Sailor Larry Pahl last Tuesday, as well as the now general belief that Johnny Hines took a "runout powder" on Young the day of their scheduled set-to here several weeks ago, Santa Ana fans have established the Pico featherweight a 2-2 choice over the Wilmington Mexican.

Young unquestionably made a fine showing against Pahl, who, week in and week out, has been the most consistent of all Delhi exhibitors. Pahl had won five straight to every one he had dropped here but Young handled him with considerable ease and actually had the aggressive Pahl retreating all over the ring in the last round.

The stubborn critics, however, still pick Gutierrez. The Mexican was outpointed by Johnny Hines but he showed a willingness to mix and a good right hand which the "experts" figure will hurt Young more than Pahl's punches ever did.

Bill Wana of Westminster, a consistently good performer at Delhi, goes against "Swede" French of Pico in the semi-windup. They are 145 pounders.

"Mooseface" Saplen and Frankie Vanagas, Anaheim 122-pounder, collide in a semi which serves to introduce Vanagas, a potential Delhi main-eventer.

Nat Mills, Irvine's dynamic little wildman, returns to action in one of the preliminaries. Mills has main-evented more than one Delhi show. He boxes lat Fred Lopez.

Slightly "upped" prices will be in effect. Ringside will be 50 cents instead of 40, all other seats 35 instead of 25. The new scale is necessary, Matchmaker Mexico explained, because the club has been losing money consistently.

CHAPMAN RETURNS YANKEE CONTRACT

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 31.—(INS)—Ben Chapman, outfielder for the New York Yankees, today declared he would not sign his 1933 contract on its present terms, said to call for a salary reduction from $12,500 to $10,000.

He would not comment on rumors that unless he signs the contract within the next few days, Yankee owners plan to farm him out.

CAVENEY TO REMAIN MANAGER OF SEALS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Jimmy Caveney will again manage the San Francisco Seals in the Pacific Coast league race this year.

He had no difficulties coming to terms with the clubowners yesterday. Caveney took the helm last season and pulled the Seals from a midseason slump.

FORM NEW HOCKEY CIRCUIT IN SOUTH

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 31.—(UP)—A new Southern California professional hockey league was formed last night as a substitute for the disbanded state-wide circuit which had included Hollywood, San Francisco and Oakland.

Hollywood, Union and Broadway, the last two representing Los Angeles districts, will form the new circuit. Games will be played Mondays and Thursdays at Palais De Glace.

COLLINS IN MINISTRY

Paul Collins, son of Eddie Collins, former second baseman and now coach of the Philadelphia Athletics, is studying for the ministry at Dartmouth college.

SMILES SPORTS

Bill Guthrie, American umpire, has a sense of humor nearly as big as himself.

Bill was doing a stand at the Red Sox ballfield in Boston one day in 1932. He was behind the plate. Benny Tate was the Sox catcher. The balls were flying fast, and Guthrie was calling them as he thought they should be. But Tate didn't agree entirely with Bill's decisions.

SURE—IT'S A GOOD BALL—YOU CAN READ THE PRINTING ON IT!

One came whizzing across and it looked like a perfect strike to Benny. But Bill thought otherwise, and called it a ball.

"Bill," shot out Benny, "that was a good ball."

"I know it was," Guthrie replied. "It was a brand new one. I just took it out of the box and rolled it out to the mound."

And that shut Benny up for the day.

Dempsey and Moxie Plan Nation Tour

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Jack Dempsey and Max Schmeling, both former heavyweight champions, plan to go on a nation-wide barnstorming tour together, according to Tim Mara, local promoter.

"They figure that their boxing exhibitions would draw big gates, put Schmeling in shape for his fight with Max Baer and also be good ballyhoo for the scrap," Mara said.

PILLOW FLIGHT HERE FOR U. S. TURF CAMPAIGN

SAN PEDRO, Jan. 31.—Pillow Flight, described as the living image of the Great Australian horse, Phar Lap, and Tea Trader arrived here today from New Zealand by boat preparatory to launching their American turf career at Agua Caliente.

Pillow Flight is regarded as one of the strong entries in the $50,000 Agua Caliente Handicap, while Tea Trader will engage in the special sprint. Pillow Flight was allotted 117 pounds in the Handicap against the top weight of 126 pounds given Plucky Play.

David J. Davis, owner of the horses and the man who brought Phar Lap to America last year only to have the mighty thoroughbred die after scoring a sensational triumph at Caliente, accompanied the horses here.

He made a special trip to New Zealand to see Pillow Flight perform, and called shortly afterwards: "I have a great colt."

Pillow Flight is a four-year-old chestnut gelding. At one time an offer of $50,000 for him was refused. As a two-year-old, Pillow Flight ran seven times, scoring two firsts and three seconds.

The horses will be taken from here to Agua Caliente in special vans, and placed in the private barn there of Norman W. Church.

TWO 'CHAMPIONS' WIN BY KNOCKOUTS

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 31.—(UP)—America's two middleweight boxing champions scored knockouts last night on the same card before 10,000 fans.

"Gorilla" Jones, of Akron, O., won the National Boxing Association's title for the second time when he knocked out Sammy Slaughter of Terre Haute, Ind., in the seventh round.

Ben Jeby, recognized in New York state as the world champion, scored a six-round technical knockout over Paul Pirrone of Cleveland in their non-title semi-final.

WILLOWICK GOLFERS TO HAVE BUSY WEEK

This will be a busy week for the Willowick Golf club and its golfers. The South Coast Golf association, 40 strong, took over the course for a tournament yesterday. Tomorrow will be Ladies' Day. Women players from Huntington Beach and Long Beach municipal clubs are due here for a flag tournament Thursday. Entries will be taken until 1 p. m.

On Saturday, Willowick will invade Huntington Beach for an all-day tourney, followed by dinner and cards. This event is in honor of the women's team of Huntington Beach which won a recent inter-club team series.

The Willowick course is playable at all times and is in especially good condition at present on account of recent rains.

FRISCH MAKES WHEN CARDS SLASH SALARY

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Frankie Frisch, second baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals, expects to settle his salary differences at a conference this week-end with the Cardinals' president, Sam Breadon, when he comes here for the New York baseball writers' dinner.

"I'm not malling my contract back," Frankie explained at his New Rochelle home. "I don't see any use in doing that until I talk with Mr. Breadon. I'm certain he and I can straighten things out."

The former Fordham flash admitted his 1932 contract called for a salary reduction and that he was "very much dissatisfied" with it.

Last year Frisch is understood to have received $18,500.

GOLF BUG BITES MRS. JONES

But Husband Bobby Has Her Learn From Club Pro SO NOW SHE IGNORES ADVICE

BY TED SMITS (I. N. S. Sports Writer)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 31.—(INS)—Husbands do not make good golf instructors—for their own wives.

This sage observation came today from Bobby Jones, peer of golfers. It was based on personal experience.

"When Mrs. Jones got the golf craze just after I retired from competition I turned her over to our 'pro' for instruction—husbands don't make such good teachers of wives," explained Bobby.

"Of course I tried to offer advice now and then, but she always brushed it aside by saying that the 'pro' instructed her otherwise."

Jones is here with his family for several months to make a series of movie "shorts."

The grand slam champion of the links appeared in top shape as he started work at the studio. Since "retiring" his waist line has shrunk and his weight has dropped to 165 pounds.

Although he reiterated his determination never again to participate in tournament competition, Jones evinced the same keen interest in the game.

The eight-inch golf cup proposed by Gene Sarazen he dismissed contemptuously.

"I can't take it seriously, and I'm quite sure Gene doesn't. It has been tried time and again in Great Britain during the past ten years, and everyone who has studied it has been convinced that no change should be made in our present rules."

"It might be nice to have eight-inch cups, and it might add to the thrills, but it wouldn't be golf."

Little Pancho and Leitham In Match

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Two little bantamweights from extreme climes will tangle in a 10-round bout at the Olympic tonight when Bobby Leitham, champion of Canada's bantam division, makes his Los Angeles debut with Little Pancho, champion of the Philippines.

SAINT CLASSES COLLIDE FRIDAY ON CINDERPATH

Unless another rain interferes, Santa Ana High's annual interclass track and field meet will be conducted Friday afternoon, according to Coach "Chuck" Webber, who announces that a fourth division, composed of post-graduates—has been allowed to enter the meet at the request of Ray Cartwright, 1932 captain.

Post-graduates will be considered a separate unit in competition with seniors, juniors and sophomores, and will be given official recognition if they garner the most points, Webber explains. Cartwright will be good for a first in the 880 and plans to enter the 220 and 440-yard dashes. He will have complete charge of the post-graduate squad.

Additional first places should be taken by Allen ("Red") Kidder, nine-semester student and all-around Saint athletic star. Since Kidder will be ineligible for Santa Ana's post-season basketball game at Fullerton Friday, he is expected to join Cartwright in preparing for the interclass event. Kidder will specialize in the hurdles. Gilbert Yorba, too, should add the "old timers."

Nineteen new candidates, 11 varsity performers, have joined Santa Ana's 1932 squad of 45 members. Newcomers are Walter Krink, Woodson Bennett, Jim Seifert, Al Hoffmaster, Harry Reed, Don Stevens, Bob Kirkpatrick, Rollin Jensen, Herbert Woodyard, Bob McFadden and Lee Hamilton. With the exception of Krink, who will compete in the hurdles again, the candidates have not definitely selected their events.

New members of the Class B squad are Jack Wallace, Vic Mosberg, Ivan Williams, Larry Velarde, Leroy Levens, Orville McCullah and John Fairbank. They, too, have not decided on any particular event. Franklin Guthrie is the only new Class C trackster.

Limbering-up exercises are being given daily in Andrews gymnasium.

BOTTOMLEY SPURNS CINCINNATI OFFER

NOKOMIS, Ill., Jan. 31.—(INS.)—Jim Bottomley today declared that the $5,000 salary cut the Cincinnati Reds have asked him to take "is impossible."

Bottomley, the first baseman traded by the St. Louis Cardinals to the Reds, added that he will not sign "for that kind of a salary."

He explained that the Reds sent him a contract calling for $8000, just $5000 less than he received from St. Louis in 1932. Bottomley said he could see no prospect for a compromise.

"It is customary," he said, "when a player is traded that he receives from his new club the same salary he collected from his former club."

Another collegiate football star who is expected to take up professional wrestling before long is Lon Evans, huge Texas Christian university All-Conference guard of last year.

Po Teams May Quit Huddle And Extra Point

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 31.—(UP)—The point-after-touchdown and the huddle may be abolished from professional football when officials meet in February, Joe Carr, league president, announced today.

Carr said that several club owners had suggested an added 10-minute period in case of a tie at the end of the regular playing time. Another plan for ending a deadlock calls for giving the ball to each side for a specified number of plays until one team scores.

Coaches and owners of National league clubs have objected to the point-after-touchdown on the ground that it often is unfair to one of two evenly matched teams. For instance, Carr pointed out, the wind or weather might give one team a distinct advantage in making the extra point.

Abandonment of the huddle has been proposed because "timing shows that 10 to 20 seconds are lost in each huddle."

SAN DIEGO AND LONG BEACH TO TIE FOR TITLE?

Conceded an even chance to tie San Diego in the Coast Preparatory league's final basketball standings, despite an 18-15 setback in the second game of a double-header with the Hilltoppers Saturday, Charlie Church's Long Beach Jackrabbits travel to Pasadena tonight for their second meeting with the Bulldogs at 8 o'clock.

This game, on schedule for January 6, was postponed by mutual agreement, and now has become the only obstacle to Long Beach's entrance in a playoff series for the 1933 title. Victory will place the Jackrabbits on even terms with San Diego, with 7 wins, 3 losses. But a defeat will shove Long Beach into a tie with Alhambra for second place, and award the Hilltoppers the championship.

After winning their first game 20-14 at San Diego Friday, the Jackrabbits entered their second assignment as favorites, but the contest turned into a rough-and-tumble affair in the final half, and the Cavemen surged ahead, 18-15.

If Long Beach wins tonight, there will be a playoff game with San Diego on a neutral floor next week, probably Wednesday.

Santa Ana's Saints meet Fullerton in a free-lance game at Fullerton Friday.

DANERI HEADS FINE MATERIAL FOR '33 SEASON

Captained by Jim ("Iron-Man") Daneri, the greatest point-maker in Don history, Coach Bill Cook's 1933 track forces receive their first official call at Santa Ana junior college this week. More than 40 prospects, 30 of whom have checked out logs, are expected to present the Dons with their largest turnout roster.

Winning five of its six dual meets, Santa Ana climaxed a highly successful season in 1932 by taking first place in the Orange Empire all-conference meet at Riverside. Prospects for another strong team, Cook believes, are even brighter this season, if all eligible candidates enlist.

Besides Daneri, a track team in himself, such outstanding prospects as Ray Cartwright, crack half-mile from Santa Ana; Hi: Fred Brooks, high hurdles; Paul Jungkelt, broad jump; Martin Lorenson, pole vault; Bill Bouldin, sprints; Harold Clem, high jump; Bill Campbell, two-mile; Rhodes Finley, 220, 880; and Merrill Bauer, sprints, promise to be on hand. All but Cartwright, Bouldin and Clem competed for the Dons last year.

Other members of the 1932 squad returning are Jim Tawney, 880; Dave McDougall, sprints; Harold Spangler, 880; and Harlan Traylor, 440, 880.

Among Santa Ana high school's contributions, including Cartwright and Clem, will be Fred ("Porky") Bell, sprints; Frank Ronscholdt, mile; Jack Wright, 440; Clarence Lewis, 880; Larry Traylor, 880; and Ray Nowotny, discus.

Other Orange county schools will be represented by at least one good performer. Orange contributes Harold Welty, 440. Anaheim offers Bill Bouldin, who ran the century in 10.2 seconds for the Colonists. Tustin sends Wally Smith, 440; Bruce Handy, javelin; Bob Arundell, sprints. Two other Tustin products—Earl Horton, ace sprinter of the Orange league last year, and Charles Crumley, 880—may report. Raymond Futura, promising high jumper, attended high school at Huntington Beach. Bill Brown, former Newport Harbor hurdler, is on deck too.

Jack Stewart, hurdler from Arizona; Charles Bowden, Texas; and Bill McDaniels, Washington, are out-of-state prospects. Stewart captured second place in the high hurdles of an Arizona state meet during his prep career at Phoenix.

Harry Clayton, Don Baldwin, "Bomo" Koral, Jack Fredericks and Garth Olsen, better known as Don football players, plan to compete in the weights. Other candidates expected are Charles McFarland, high jump; K. Ulrich, hurdles; Everett Numann, and Raymond Hoar, hurdler.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(UP)—The New York Giants, who represent the third largest Italian city in the world, have signed their first Italian player—Gus Mancuso, catcher.

The Giants obtained him last October from the St. Louis Cardinals.

THREE SUITS FILED ASKING $7657 DAMAGES

Three suits for damages totaling $7657 were filed in superior court yesterday as the result of an automobile accident last September on the highway between Irvine and the city limits. The suits were filed by Alpheus Smith, Mrs. Lucile Smith, and Wilda Marie Smith, 8-year-old daughter of the Smiths. The latter action was filed by Alpheus Smith as his child's guardian.

J. M. Aston and John M. Betts were named defendants in the suit which charged that Aston operated the truck owned by Betts in a careless and negligent manner. The crash occurred September 8, 1932. Smith is seeking judgment for $621 damages to his automobile as a result of the accident. Mrs. Smith is demanding $2000 for her injuries received when the car and truck collided and $30 for medical fees. She received, according to her complaint, internal injuries and bruises.

Damages of $5000 are demanded for injuries received by the child. In addition to $16 for hospital and doctors' bills. The Smith child, who was riding with her mother and father in the Smith automobile at the time of the accident, received cuts and bruises about the face and body, one cut leaving a permanent scar on the face, her right leg was mashed and the right ankle permanently disabled.

Mayor Paul Witmer, chairman of the day, has also arranged for J. S. Smart, chairman of the Citizens' Emergency Unemployment committee, to speak on problems the committee meets in its relief work.

A caravan of automobiles, containing members of the Kiwanis club, will leave Sixth and Broadway streets at 8:30 o'clock tonight to attend the evening meeting in Anaheim when the district governor will address the meeting.

Editor Register: Referring to your editorial of last Wednesday regarding the "Buy in Orange County" movement, I know of no better way to bring out the importance of home trade, than through the bakery industry. You mention one bakery with a payroll of $75,000. Let us presume that there are 75 more bakeries with an average payroll of $1000 at the present time in Orange county. This would bring the present payroll of the bakery industry in Orange county up to $150,000 a year.

I doubt that these Orange county bakeries supply half the consumption of bakery goods. In fact I firmly believe that Orange county bakeries could double their business in Orange county, which would mean increased payrolls and the buying of many products that this increased business would demand.

When we consider meat or soap and what a tremendous amount is consumed in Orange county and then think of the turn-over and the amount of money it would put in circulation immediately, if every body in Orange county would demand soap and meat that came from Orange county manufacturer or wholesaler; then if we go on down the line and add up the total consumption in Orange county and compare each item with the amount manufactured in Orange county and we would quickly see how easy it would be to increase payrolls, turnover and the circulation of money through financial institutions and business houses, several millions of dollars every year.

The average bakery is too small to do much in the way of educational advertising, but if 75 bakeries would join with 75 other manufacturers, wholesale and retail outlets, they could put on an educational campaign that would especially emphasize one fundamental fact, i. e., the farther we send our money away from home, the longer it is going to take to get this money back home in circulation.

CIRCULATION, TURNOVER, PAYROLLS. These words signify action, energy. It takes energy to produce energy. It takes advertising to produce business. Any live merchant today handles goods the people ask for. It is up to these Orange county institutions to get Orange county folk to ask for Orange county products. Quality and all other factors being equal, they have the advantage of freshness; and can easily demonstrate that it is not only the patriotic thing to do, but, from an economic standpoint of low cost and selfishness, it pays in the long run to trade at home. I could go on and give many reasons why.

The main thing is to form an organization, or through some organization, start a campaign that will start a process of thinking. We must think Orange county—then we will buy Orange county.

MAKE SURVEY ON COSTS OF WATER PUMPING

Through the cooperation of the Orange County Farm Bureau with the Pacific Coast Electrical Bureau and officials of the Southern California Edison company, a study in economical irrigation units is being prepared for use by Orange county farmers.

In announcing plans for determining the most efficient and economical pumping unit for use in the area, it was pointed out that at present more than half the farm land in the Santa Ana basin is being irrigated by individual pumping units. Checks made of these units have revealed that many of them are inefficient, some running as low as 11 per cent efficient. A lot of pumps are using more electrical energy for the amount of water produced than they should running the cost of irrigation one-third higher than it would be if the plans were efficient, it is said.

It already has been pointed out that as the water table falls the pumps decrease in efficiency.

The Edison company has conducted approximately 100 pump tests in the county and W. M. Corey, assistant farm advisor, and Dr. D. D. Waynick of the Association Laboratory has conducted a group of other tests. This data is being combined to show what the cost per foot lift should be to the farmer for irrigation and to give him a guide as to remedying his difficulties.

LEAGUE OFFICIAL ATTACKS GRAND JURY REPORT; SAYS 'POLITICS' WAS INVOLVED

BY WAYNE GOBLE
(Secretary of the Orange County Civic League)

The 1933 Orange county Grand Jury cost the taxpayers $4,588.28, and it should have been a profitable and satisfactory investment.

This body supposedly represented the public, and most taxpayers were hoping the Grand Jury would use its common sense, exercise its rights, and save them some substantial amounts of money in taxes.

The need for drastic reductions was everywhere apparent, but since the Grand Jury made its report last week and was dismissed, the muddle appears worse than before.

The grand jury lost a golden opportunity to help the taxpayers. It failed of its most important mission. Perhaps it was "Politics," and the fear of politics, which so affected its conclusions that only a fraction of the good was accomplished which could have been accomplished.

While taxpayers are losing their homes and crying for reduced taxes, the grand jury solemnly declared that "bathing facilities should be incorporated in all schools having an appreciable percentage of Mexican attendance."

Everyone else is crying for the elimination of special and non-essential services in the schools, but the grand jury wanted to spend more money for school bathtubs.

Presumably, the "bathing facilities" are to be used, but how? Shall the teachers leave their classes to wash one pupil's dirty neck, or shall "Supervisors of the Bath" be added to the school payroll? The grand jury did not say.

Overlooked Big Items

The late lamented grand jury, apparently, was so busy with little things that it overlooked the big ones. We have been studying and analyzing the report, which seems to be far from perfect, both in what it says, and what is left unsaid.

It could have recommended a 50 per cent cut in county highway costs and saved a half million per year, but instead brought forth the recommendation that three constables' salaries at Laguna Beach, Seal Beach, and San Juan Capistrano be raised $300 per year each.

It could have studied consolidations and mergers of townships and county departments, and perhaps a giant merger of all governmental units in the county which would save up to 40 per cent of tax money, but instead it recommended additions in some cases instead of consolidations.

It could have recommended the discontinuance of county advertising in the Los Angeles papers and saved a few thousands, but instead it wants a new official county map, which it is said might cost $10,000 to $13,000.

It could have recommended a reduction of the legal advertising rate paid by the county, which would save a few thousand per year, but instead it recommended that only land owners be permitted to vote on bond issues. The segregation of such voters would cost several thousand dollars per year.

It could have investigated all county salaries, and recommended a fair, just, and impersonal adjustment in line with present conditions, or a horizontal slash of 20 or 25 per cent which would hit all alike. Instead, it recommends slashes, without rhyme or reason, varying from nothing up to 33-1-3 per cent. The lack of justice is shown by the fact that judges getting $7000 per year were favored for a $500 cut, or about 7 per cent, while probation deputy getting $1800 annual salary was listed for a $600 cut, or 33-1-3 per cent.

Good Recommendations

With the county government and schools costing us close to $200 per family per year, and 37 per cent of the net income of all the people going to maintain city, county, state, and federal governments, this year's grand jury—which cost us $4500—should have helped to cut taxes to an appreciable extent.

To give the devil its due, the grand jury did make three good recommendations which most voters will approve, as follows:

1. That only one member of a family be employed by the county.
2. That the school tenure law be abolished.
3. That no public-owned cars be used for pleasure or for personal business.

Then, to spoil it all and increase the muddle, the grand jury made five recommendations, which, if carried out, would actually increase the cost of county government. They are:

1. That the assessor notify property owners by mail when assessments are increased, notice to be mailed at least 30 days before board of equalization meets.

(This 30-day provision could not be met, we are told, because the assessment period continues up to the very day the board of equalization meets. In addition it would cost a possible $16,000 per year in event of a general increase in assessed values—$6000 for extra help, $1800 for postage, and $9000 for registry of mail, which would be necessary to provide proof that the assessor had complied with the law. There the 60,000 property owners in the county.)

2. That only owners of real property be permitted to vote on bond issues. (This would require an up-to-date record of all property transfers and the maintenance of a segregation from the "privileged" or "bond" voters, separate from the general voters who ultimately share in all taxes, anyway.)

ISSUE WARNING ON 'RACKETS' IN CHARITY WORK

Increasing activities of fake charity solicitors, "panhandlers" and charity racketeers in Santa Ana have led to denunciation of these activities by local organizations and the broadcasting of warnings to residents of the city not to donate to anyone representing themselves as representatives of a local organization unless the proper credentials are produced.

Major F. Schute, head of the Salvation Army in Santa Ana, today broadcast a warning to all residents of Santa Ana stating that fake solicitors, representing themselves as being from the local Salvation Army headquarters, have been operating here.

In order to meet the situation, Major Schute has arranged for all persons who call for wood, clothing or any other articles that the Army uses, to be supplied with proper credentials. He asked that anyone donating anything make sure that the solicitor is supplied with the credentials.

Material Collection

He pointed out that the local headquarters have arranged for all collections of materials to be made through the Santa Ana office, instead of through the Long Beach office as has been the custom in the past.

"We are not soliciting funds at the present time," Major Schute said, "as money for our operating expenses is supplied to us through the Community Chest."

At the same time, William Rudiman, manager of the Unemployed Association of Santa Ana, pointed out a novel charity racket which has been operated here. A man and a woman, the woman with a baby in her arms, park their car in blocks in the residential sections of the city and thoroughly canvass all houses in the vicinity.

They ring the doorbell at a home, Rudiman said, and stand in the doorway, the man asking if he cannot return to the morning to cut the lawn or to perform other work. Because it is at night and also because nearly everyone does his own yardwork or has regularly employed persons to take care of it, the request is usually refused. This is the cue for the woman with the baby in her arms to say, "Well, then, can you let us have a dime?" And it usually works, Rudiman declared.

Suggest Coupon Use

Other solicitors have been going around the city, it has been reported, with collection plates and asking people to "help the poor" without mentioning where the "poor" are located or whether they themselves are the ones referred to.

A great deal of money is taken out of the city through these operations, which could be put to much better use here, Rudiman pointed out.

In order to avoid the necessity for residents of Santa Ana to give cash donations to people who stop them on the streets, the Unemployed association has issued coupon books which can be purchased at 60 cents for 12 coupons, each of which is good for a meal at a local restaurant or is exchangeable for groceries at the Unemployed headquarters on North Main street.

ARRANGE PROGRAM OF SACRED MUSIC

BREA Jan. 31.—Sponsored by the Christian, the Nazarene and the Congregational churches, a program of sacred music will be given Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Congregational church by Mr. and Mrs. R. Mason, the "Gospel Messengers," of Portland, Ore.

Among the several musical instruments which Mr. and Mrs. Mason will play are musical glasses and Swiss hand bells. Stereopticon pictures will be shown, portraying the origin of many of the musical numbers.

MANY STORES TO KEEP OPEN DURING EVENING OF DOLLAR DAY; PLAN SPECIAL VALUES

Many Santa Ana stores will keep open until 9 o'clock the evening of February 15, scheduled to be observed as Dollar Day in Santa Ana under the auspices of the Santa Ana Merchants association, it was announced today by A. Cavali, manager of the association.

The stores which plan to stay with shoppers bound for Santa Ana will do so to afford an opportunity for out of town shoppers who are expected to be attracted to Santa Ana because of the outstanding values to be offered by local merchants, to come to Santa Ana to make purchases.

Arrangements have been made for special busses to bring shoppers to Santa Ana from Fullerton and Anaheim and from communities south of Santa Ana, according to Cavali. The Merchants association has also made arrangements for a bus to leave Long Beach at 9 o'clock on the morning of Dollar Day, which will make two stops.

Radio station KREG will be used to make several announcements concerning the shopping event, according to James N. Harding, president of the association.

Merchants in the city are co-operating to make the event the greatest Dollar Day ever staged in the city by offering articles of merit at outstanding prices.

Nitroglycerine, the powerful explosive, is also one of the most potent heart stimulants known.

CAMPAIGN TO INSURE FULL WEIGHT OPENS

Working with the department of weights and measures of Orange county, the Santa Ana Merchants association is planning to start a vigorous campaign to insure full weights, according to a statement made today by A. Cavali, manager of the association.

Receiving several complaints from citizens of Santa Ana about short weights, the association decided to act in an attempt to "straighten out these shopkeepers who are grossly violating the law by having scales that are not correct," it was stated.

James A. Randel, deputy sealer of weights and measures, has assured Cavali that his department is doing all in its power to correct any such action on the part of some storekeepers and if the association would bring any of the complaints to the head of the department, J. Fred Sidebottom, he would act at once, it was said.

Scales all over the county are inspected every day and if there are any irregularities, Cavali said, they should be reported at once and the county officials will see that the scales are confiscated.

GIRL BADLY HURT IN TOBOGGAN SPILL

Kathryn Bement, Santa Ana junior college student, who was injured when she fell from a toboggan while attending the junior college snow party at Big Pines last Friday, was taken to St. Joseph's hospital yesterday for treatment.

She suffered a fractured vertebra in the fall from the sled and was taken to the hospital yesterday to be put in a cast.

The injury, combined with nervous shock, precludes any visits from friends this week.

EAGLE SCOUT AWARDS TO BE MADE AT COUNTY SCOUT COUNCIL MEETING WEDNESDAY

Annual election of officers, scout advancements, annual reports and talks will be features of the annual Orange County Boy Scout Council meeting to be held tomorrow night at 6:30 o'clock in the American Legion hall, when Eagle Scout awards will be made to three youths.

Members of the Legion post auxiliary will serve dinner to those present.

Harrison E. White, county Boy Scout executive, will outline the activities of Scout groups in the county during the past year in his annual report.

New officers of the council will be elected. Present officers are as follows: Elmer Stoffersen, president; M. A. Gauer, first vice president; R. M. Elliott, second vice president; E. T. McPadden, treasurer; W. H. Spurgeon, M. B. Wellington, C. R. Allen, O. J. Gilbert, Donald J. Dodge and M. C. McMillan, members of the council.

Spurgeon is chairman of the committee in charge of the program for the evening. Members of several troops in the county have been selected to put on scouting demonstrations. Harold Woodward, Eagle Scout, will give a talk of appreciation of the work done by scoutmasters, who will be the honored guests of the evening. A special feature will be a group of violin solos to be played by Billy Rose of Westminster.

Eagle Scout awards will be presented to William Spurgeon Jr., Howard Clayton and Roy Hill. Special honors will be bestowed upon Oscar Kitto of Costa Mesa when he is awarded a palm.

The speaker of the evening will be William McGinnis of Long Beach, who has had considerable experience with Indian scouts. He will talk on the subject, "Indian Scouts vs. Boy Scouts."

In spite of the present economic conditions, there are now 1225 Boy Scouts in Orange county, representing an increase of 9.2 per cent over 1931, according to Executive White's annual report which will be made at the meeting.

The British Colonial Empire now has an area of about 2,000,000,000 square miles.

Drivers Escape Injuries In Two Auto Accidents

LA HABRA, Jan. 31.—Two automobile wrecks occurred in La Habra Sunday evening between 7 and 8 o'clock.

A coupe registered to Charles Price, of La Habra, crashed into an Edison company pole at the intersection of Walnut and Central avenue, breaking the pole in half and tearing it from the ground. The pole fell across Central avenue.

When officers arrived at the scene they found no one in the car and later learned from Price that the car had been loaned by him to Lloyd Kistner of La Habra, some time Saturday.

M. C. Washburn, of Oregon, skidded into the curbing at Fullerton road and Central avenue when he attempted to avoid hitting the car in front of him and found his brakes were wet and would not hold. The windshield of his car was broken and one tire blown out. He was able to proceed after fixing the tire.

The only son of the honored couple, R. B. Mullis of Delavan, Calif., was unable to be present, but he was ably represented by his anniversary gift of a huge turkey to form the main course of a delectable dinner menu. There were many flowers among gifts sent to Mr. and Mrs. Mullis, and some of the more vivid blossoms were used to grace the table where dinner was served.

Covers were laid for the wedding celebrants, Mr. and Mrs. Mullis, and for Mr. and Mrs. Latham and their children, Billie, Ruth, Helen and Master Jack Latham; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Standifer, another son-in-law and daughter, with their children, J. L. Jr. and Fanny Ruth, and for a close family friend, Perry Sutton of the U. S. Battleship Tennessee.

During the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Mullis recalled memories of their marriage in 1883 in a home on what had been the famous Chickamauga battlefield of the Civil war. This historic home at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., had been used as a field hospital after the mother of Mr. Mullis was forced to seek refuge for herself and her tiny children as the tides of battle rolled near. The husband and father of the home, a young soldier in the Confederate army, was killed in battle.

Mountains Invaded For Day in Snow

Rising at dawn Saturday, members of the senior class of the Tustin Union high school headed for Forest Home on their annual snow expedition, voted this year the best in the history of the winter event. Two private cars, accompanying the bus load of seniors, carried Mr. and Mrs. William G. Knox, whose cabin was made headquarters for the day; Miss Marjorie Knox; Mr. and Mrs. Colburn, chaperones, and Miss Stella Yocum, supervising the food supplies. Although a snowfall the night before had whitened the canyon nearly to its entrance and had deepened heavy drifts, the party was able to make its way to within a few feet of the Knox cabin. The abundance of snow and the favorable climate made tobogganing and snow sports ideal, and these diversions were varied with snow fights and picture taking, the crowd returning late Saturday evening.

Alaskan Explorations Portrayed for Ebell By Glacier Priest

Disregarding the scientific aspects of his various trips into remote and almost inaccessible parts of Alaska, Bernard R. Hubbard, famous as the "Glacier Priest" of Santa Clara university, yesterday centered his Santa Ana address on such phases of his explorations as would be of outstanding interest to laymen forming his audience in the high school auditorium.

Appearing in this city under the auspices of Ebell society, Father Hubbard was presented to a large and interested audience by one of his brothers of the cloth, the Rev. Father St. John O'Sullivan of San Juan Capistrano Mission. Wearing gauntlets and a fur jacket of remarkable workmanship, the speaker launched upon a detailed description of the garments and their elaborately beaded designs, the gift of Eskimo children with whom he had come in contact.

The remainder of his lecture was given over to descriptions of the motion pictures shown, and accounts of incidents of the different journeys as pictures recalled to mind. Ethnology, archaeology, geology and other sciences, were suggested by the pictures, some of which showed ancient stone carvings linking the Eskimos with other races. It was further brought out by the speaker that the Indians inhabiting the interior of Alaska speak a language identical with that of the Navajo tribes of this western country. Incidentally he explained that the Eskimos are only to be found near the seacoast.

Citing the Jurassic formation of Alaskan mountains he declared the land to be "the gift of the ocean," as it is of true volcanic origin. That it was upraised in some wild upheaval of prehistoric times, is proven by the shells and other evidences of sea life on its highest peaks.

Motion pictures showed some of the hazards met and overcome by his party, including the dangers of ice floes in the Yukon river; the breaking of great ice masses from northern glaciers, pictures of which were taken with a telephoto lens, since it was too dangerous for their way to go near the glacier; forays into the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes; explorations on the island of Bogoslof in the Bering sea to study its volcanic formation, and the most hazardous of all, the airplane flight into the tremendous crater of the active volcano, Aniakchak.

This volcano, pouring out deadly gases even when it visited it, is 27 times as great as Vesuvius, he explained, and in its eruption which he correctly foretold because of his scientific investigations, threw untold thousands of tons of ashes and lava over an already desolated land. Some of his pictures were taken from the plane, and showed an unbelievable wild and lonely land which had never known the tread of human foot, and with mountain pinnacles so high and so dangerous that the plane had to take an extremely high altitude to avoid having its pontoons torn away.

The party landed on a lake occupying one small corner of the vast crater, and the men spent several weeks on meteorological surveys before leaving the dangerous spot.

Girls Ebell Society Congratulated on Valentine Dance

Upholding their reputation for interesting hospitalities, members of the Girls Ebell society continued their dance series this past week end with a gay affair given in Ebell peacock room.

The Valentine motif selected for this entertainment proved conducive to the most colorful form of decoration, red ornamentation and lighting lending itself admirably to a dance setting. From each chandelier hung streamers, suspended red hearts and cupid, while the opaque glass bordering one side of the room was luminous with the glow of red lights.

A five-piece orchestra directed by Loren Cannon contributed to the party's hilarity with frequent cymbal dances which proved merry highlights in the evening's program. Serpentine confetti thrown out over the dancers, added to the general gaiety.

Ebell Girls were assisted in their duties as hostesses by a group of patrons and patronesses who included Mrs. Paul Bailey, President of Ebell society; Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Tuthill, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Davis, Mesdames Emrys D. White, Catharine Marble and Ione Tunison Peak.

Indoor Garden Setting Given Home Marriage Ceremony

Probably no outdoor scene could have been lovelier as a setting for the marriage of Miss Muriel King and Glenn E. Watkins than the miniature garden which had been erected in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. King in Orange, for the ceremony uniting the young couple on Sunday, January 29.

Two little gates, left ajar, opened into a picturesque garden which had been achieved through the use of quantities of early spring blooms including sweet peas, and roses, as well as ferns and large baskets of acacia blossoms. The bride and bridegroom faced this floral background. The officiating minister, the Rev. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of Orange Presbyterian church, stood in the fern-twined garden archway, which was outlined with softly glowing white and yellow lights.

As Mrs. Robert Biffie played "Love's Old Sweet Song," members of the bridal party entered, passing an aisle outlined by ribbons leading the length of a double row of flickering tapers.

Miss King made a lovely young bride in her white tulle frock of princess style, fashioned with floor-length skirt adorned with lace medallions. Instead of a veil she wore a bandeau of orange blossoms. Her bridegroom led the only bit of color to her costume, for it was of sweet peas in soft pastel tints. Albert T. King gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Kenneth King, her sister-in-law, was matron of honor, and was charmingly gowned in peach chiffon of smart design. Her flower girls wore bronze and lavender sweet peas, combined with larkspur. Mrs. King had planned all decorative details and appointments for the ceremony.

Robert Biffie of Orange, attended Mr. Watkins as best man.

For the informal reception which followed, guests were seated at small tables brightened with sweet peas. The bride's table was appointed in white and silver, with floral corsages at each place. A three-tiered wedding cake, elaborately decorated, was served with ice-cream and coffee.

Immediate relatives and close friends of the young couple had been invited to the affair.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Watkins are to establish their home at 619 West Walnut avenue in Orange, where they will welcome their friends about the middle of February.

Jaysee Students Join In Mountain Party

Skiing, tobogganing, sledding and snow battles fittingly celebrated the completion of final examinations when over 100 students of Santa Ana junior college attended the annual jaysee snow party held last Friday at Big Pines. This event concluded the college social activities of this semester.

Following the outdoor activities during the morning and after eating box lunches dancing was enjoyed in the big lodge where cheery fires were burning in the two fireplaces.

Meeting at Olive early in the morning a caravan was formed under the direction of Brotherhood of Bachelor. Others organizations contributing to the success of the party were Las Gitanas, whose members served luncheon to faculty members present, Miss Zena Leck, Thomas Hall Glenn, H. O. Scott, and Mrs. William Spurgeon and Buccaneros who served coffee to the students.

Arriving Honeymooners Inspire Function of Bridal Charm

Expressing a welcome to two young people who promise to be a real acquisition to the young married set of this city, was the formal dinner party which Mr. and Mrs. George W. Guenther and Mrs. Benjamin Scott tendered Saturday evening to Mr. and Mrs. Burt Frederick Zaiser, just returned to Santa Ana from honeymoon days spent at the Mark Hopkins in San Francisco and in Carmel-by-the-Sea and Monterey.

Mr. Zaiser, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zaiser, 440 North Broadway, is a brother of Mrs. Guenther and Mrs. Scott and his marriage to Miss Adriana Van Kesteren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Van Kesteren of Los Angeles, was an event of January 14 in the University chapel at Palo Alto. Their return to this city to make their home, has inspired a series of delightful affairs, some of them marked by the intimacy of family gatherings, and others designed to introduce the new Mrs. Zaiser to social circles of the community.

It was natural for Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Guenther to adopt a bridal theme in entertaining, and decorative details effected in the Guenther home, 1385 North Broadway, enhanced the charm of the hospitality. The silvery foliage of huddella was effective in window boxes while such spring-like blossoms as freesias, single hyacinths, and narcissus combined beautifully with white sweet peas and great masses of orange blossoms. Stately white tapers lighted the rooms, and in the dining room where small tables were placed for the dinner hour, candles centered on snow-white cloths. The buffet dinner was served from a long table draped with lace and placed against a swaying panel of green emilax. A branched candelabra filled with white candles, illumined an exquisite scene with demure doll bride in satin and pearls, and a full complement of attendants for both her and her small groom.

At the table for the new Mrs. Zaiser, a tall chair was garlanded with orange blossoms and satin ribbons, and she was very lovely in a gracious young dignity. She wore a tulle gown of satin in her favorite beige tones, and a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

Covers were laid for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Guenther and Mrs. Scott; their honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Frederick Zaiser, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Weiss.

For the luncheon, served at 1:30 o'clock in the celebrant's home, 201 East Washington avenue, 19 members of the family and a little group of close friends were present. All had joined in making preparations for the event. Table decorations were carried out in pink and blue, with roses providing floral appointments and blue tapers lighting the scene. Placecards bore recent pictures of Mr. Klatt, with the date of celebration. A large birthday cake, beautifully decorated, was topped with lighted candles. The honored guest received many gifts.

Special guests present for the gathering were Father F. A. Weckman, pastor of St. Joseph's church, his assistant Father Nevin, and Father P. J. Webber of Sierra Madre.

Mr. Klatt, who was born in Germany, came to Illinois to make his home in 1845. He served in the Second Illinois Cavalry for the duration of the Civil war. With his wife, the former Miss Rosina Yeager, and family, Mr. Klatt moved to Santa Ana in 1918, and has made his home here since that time.

Members of the family taking part in the celebration included Mr. and Mrs. John Laubscher and daughters, Rosemary and Genevieve Ann of Oxnard; and Genevieve C. J. Klatt and daughter, Jeanette; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Klatt, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Klatt, Mrs. A. D. Cadwalader; Miss Bertha Klatt, Miss Rose Klatt, Miss Helen Klatt, Miss Armella Klatt and Miss Genevieve Klatt.

Those carrots called for in the salad; if you haven't cooked carrots on hand, use grated raw carrot. It's nice mixed with the peas.

Arranged as a means of acquainting committeewomen of the Disabled American Veterans auxiliary with their specific duties as regards the approaching sale of tickets for the annual D. A. V. Military ball, scheduled for February 22, Mrs. J. A. Fisher and her daughter, Miss Lydia Fisher, entertained informally last night in their home at 516 South Birch street. Miss Fisher will superintend ticket sales in Santa Ana.

Serving the double purpose of bringing the women together socially and clarifying business details, the small gathering proved a delightful hospitality and effective as concerned the formulating of a more definite plan for the ticket campaign. As a result of the meeting, the committeewomen made arrangements to join forces by twos and threes in an effort to facilitate operations during the next several weeks. Ninety-fifth Birthday Proves Memorable Occasion

Of more than usual significance was a birthday celebration held Sunday, January 29, when friends and relatives, including members of St. Joseph's Catholic church as a whole, joined with Frank Klatt in observing his 95th birthday anniversary. Special church services and a natal day luncheon were features of the celebration.

First recognition paid Mr. Klatt by St. Joseph's church came early in the morning, when the Holy Name society, of which he is honorary president, received communion in his honor. Members of the choir expressed their esteem of the nonagenarian by giving special music and holding high Mass.

For the luncheon, served at 1:30 o'clock in the celebrant's home, 201 East Washington avenue, 19 members of the family and a little group of close friends were present. All had joined in making preparations for the event. Table decorations were carried out in pink and blue, with roses providing floral appointments and blue tapers lighting the scene. Placecards bore recent pictures of Mr. Klatt, with the date of celebration. A large birthday cake, beautifully decorated, was topped with lighted candles. The honored guest received many gifts.

Special guests present for the gathering were Father F. A. Weckman, pastor of St. Joseph's church, his assistant Father Nevin, and Father P. J. Webber of Sierra Madre.

Mr. Klatt, who was born in Germany, came to Illinois to make his home in 1845. He served in the Second Illinois Cavalry for the duration of the Civil war. With his wife, the former Miss Rosina Yeager, and family, Mr. Klatt moved to Santa Ana in 1918, and has made his home here since that time.

Members of the family taking part in the celebration included Mr. and Mrs. John Laubscher and daughters, Rosemary and Genevieve Ann of Oxnard; and Genevieve C. J. Cadwalader; Miss Bertha Klatt, Miss Rose Klatt, Miss Helen Klatt, Miss Armella Klatt and Miss Genevieve Klatt.

Family Party Comes As Complement to L. J. Carden

A delightful family party honoring the birthday anniversary of Lincoln J. Carden had its setting Sunday in the Lester Carden home, 2006 Victoria drive, where Mr. and Mrs. Lester Carden and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hill joined in entertaining.

The brightness of vivid-petaled poinsettias and of cotoneaster contributed to a festive background for the occasion. Much of the afternoon was spent around a fire blazing cheerfully on the hearth. The hours were passed informally in music and conversation.

At the tea hour, all were seated around a large table, where appointments were carried out in pink and orchid. Stocks, snapdragons and other flowers were used in observing the theme, further evidenced in a lovely birthday cake prettily decorated and topped with candles. The meal was served with a delicious menu. The honored guest received various gifts.

Those in the group were Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln J. Carden, Mrs. Helen Carden Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Carden and children, Lester Jr., Billy and Dorothy Alice, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hill and family, Betty, Billy and Marjorie Alice; all of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hill and son, Herbert Jr.; of Whittier; Verle Van Syok of Los Angeles.</

Olive Hillside Grove Receipts For Year $136,017.48

GROWERS PAID $18,506.07 AS PLANT REFUND

OLIVE, Jan. 31.—Receipts of $136,017.48 for the fruit handled during the last year are shown in the annual report of the Olive Hillside Groves, local unit of the Mutual Orange Distributors. The annual meeting was this afternoon in the packing house.

W. A. Greenleaf, president of the association, directed the meeting for the 18th consecutive year, having held this office since the organization of the cooperative in 1914. Two other veterans with the group are F. B. Maxwell, secretary-manager since 1919, and August Lemke, who, with the exception of one year, has been a director, and for the last five years has been vice president.

"The association is entirely out of debt except for current month bills," Maxwell stated in the report. "And for this reason we hold out but five cents in the revolving fund. This year our total refund paid to growers was $18,506.07. This includes the packing refund. Our receipts for all fruit handled were $136,017.48."

Maxwell sees a smaller crop of valencias for 1933 than was handled in 1932.

"The oranges are smaller now than at the same time last year," he added. "This difference in size, together with the wind damage to some districts will cut the shipments."

"Present prospects are that the Olive district will have a reduction of probably 25 per cent in the season shipments."

What Is it about CHESTERFIELDS?

Well, I can't tell you much of anything about what is in Chesterfields

BUT I smoke a good deal, and I noticed that they said that Chesterfield Cigarettes were milder and tasted better; so I smoked a package or two and found it to be true.

I also noticed that the cigarettes were well-filled, seemed to be the right length and the right circumference, and burned uniformly—not up one side and down the other.

I liked the aroma—very pleasing. I liked the appearance of the cigarette—the paper, dead white. The package rather appealed to me.

I don't know exactly what it is, but I just like 'em. It's about the only luxury that I enjoy; so I think it's all right for me to have a good cigarette, and I believe Chesterfield is just about the best.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The Tines watched the big bear run with Duncy. "Gee, that may be fun," said Coppy, "but the speed's too fast. Poor Duncy soon will flop."

"Let's try and catch the bear right now. We may be able to, somehow. Let's all run up and tackle him. That ought to make him stop."

The bear, however, was too smart. Right through the whole bunch he would dart, but when the Tines dove for him, he simply wasn't there.

This made the hunter laugh in glee. "You lads are not so good," said he. "It doesn't do you any good when you dive through the air."

The Tines soon flopped on the ground, while Mister Bear still ran around. "He wins," exclaimed brave Scouty. "Frankly, I am all tired out."

Many a man's love is muffled when his sweetheart muffles his throat.

"The bear thinks this is just a game. If Duncy hangs on, he's to blame. I'll bet he really doesn't know what it is all about."

Just then the bear turned to the right and shortly disappeared from sight. "My goodness, where's he going?" shouted Windy, in despair.

The hunter answered, "Oh, don't fret. They soon will come back here, I'll bet. As long as Duncy's having fun, why should you Tines care?"

Brave Duncy hung on good and tight, just hoping all would be all right. The bear ran over a big hillside and then slowed down a bit.

"Where are we bound for?" Duncy said. And then he saw a cave ahead. That's where this big bear lives, he thought. I hope we enter it.

Just as they reached the big cave door, the bear let out a real loud roar. "Why, what's the matter?" Duncy cried. "What is this all about?"

Then, looking at the cave, he saw a sight, and he was filled with awe. In answer to the big bear's roar, two cubs came running out. (Copyright, 1933, NEA Service, Inc.)

REV. HOFFMAN GIVES TALK ON 'WAY OF CROSS'

FULLERTON, Jan. 31.—The Rev. R. Dow Hoffman, pastor of the Fullerton Methodist church, speaking on "Jerusalem and the Holy Land," Sunday outlined some walking trips he took there, particularly as he followed what is conceded by authorities as the "way of the cross."

He followed the paths outlined to a place within the city walls and supposedly the place of the cross, where the various creeds have outlined "stalls" in which to worship, and where this has become a great money-making mart. He said he turned aside with disgust at the fights that were ensuing there. The place outside the city wall, and which is marked step by step outlining the path of the cross, is owned by the British, and is one of the few places in Palestine where there is not a money-making scheme connected with the historic scene of one of the great events of the life of Christ, he said.

At the morning hour the Rev. Mr. Hoffman was surprised when 85 of the children who have been attending his morning service especially for children filed past the pulpit, giving large bouquets. The procession was headed by a group carrying an enormous birthday cake, topped with candles, honoring their pastor on his anniversary. In his sermon to the children he presented each with two gifts, one to be given to some other child.

for LOVE or MONEY by H.W. CORLEY

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Mona Moran, receptionist in a Wall Street law office, receives an amazing proposal of marriage. Her employer tells her a wealthy client wishes to marry her immediately with the understanding that for a year she shall occupy her own apartment, have unlimited charge accounts, do as she pleases. She is in love with a man, but she is to decide whether to become the man's wife in actuality or secure a divorce. She is in love with a man, but she is to decide whether to become the man's wife in actuality or secure a divorce.

She is in love with a man, but she is to decide whether to become the man's wife in actuality or secure a divorce.

CHAPTER XXVIII

Mona looked across the table at her companion and reflected. Anything was better than that they should talk of themselves. With the feeling that they were approaching dangerous ground she had carefully led the conversation away from their affairs.

Surprisingly enough, she was finding the experience of lunching with her husband not disagreeable. He was entertaining, she admitted. Handsome even. It did not seem possible, or if possible at least not at all likely, that this man should have stooped to punish his nephew by thwarting him in a marriage. Yet he had intimated at Twilands that when their marriage had been arranged young Barry's inclinations were not unknown to him.

"I'll explain if I may," Mr. Townsend said as though he read her thoughts. "After I returned from White Sulphur Barry told me he was in love with a girl he had met recently. I vetoed it immediately because I wanted him to marry Miss Dower. Her father and I have looked forward to such a marriage for years. I suppose the day for such arrangements by parents is over but we hadn't realized that. Barry refused even to listen. As a matter of fact, though I did not realize it at the time, Genevieve—a fine girl, too—positively declined to marry Barry. She is in love, it seems with a young man in my office, a penniless nobody."

"Like me," Mona offered. "Not at all like you. You should see him!" The next instant Mr. Townsend paused with concern. Mona had seen young Ashcroft. She had indeed been robbed by him!

"At any rate, please believe me," he founded. "I did not know when I asked—or had Garretson ask—you to marry me that I was thwarting Barry. Please believe me!"

"You knew you didn't want him to marry the girl of whom he'd spoken," Mona said. "You knew—well, that you threatened to change your will to effect his inheritance. I don't know just how but I've heard about it. You didn't want him, did you?"

"To marry the girl of whom he'd spoken," Mona said. "You knew—well, that you threatened to change your will to effect his inheritance. I don't know just how but I've heard about it. You didn't want him, did you?"

The waiter, hovering over them, filled a glass with tinkling ice and poured in water.

"You mean," Mr. Townsend began coolly, his eyes glinting, "that I am treating Barry badly because his father stole my fiancée. Well, since he did, perhaps that's my view."

He set down the glass after a pause, "I did not invite you to lunch, however, to discuss Barry. The subject is painful to me. We have an errand later; I've a gift for you. I selected it some time ago. Maybe you've heard of it. A huge diamond called 'The Empress' is yours. Withington, my jeweler, has set it for you in a necklace. Too large really but worth that rather varying amount, a king's ransom!"

"You've bought 'The Empress' for me?"

"You've heard of it then?" He glanced at her sideways.

"Of course I've heard of it. Who hasn't? It's been in the newspapers. But you've bought it for me?"

"They rode in a taxicab to Withington's. At once they were ushered into a private room and Mona, not unaware or displeased by attention bestowed upon her husband saw that he was recognized as a man of affairs and importance. She felt that if they had come to purchase shirt studs their reception would have been no less gracious.

The busy little manager welcomed them and, smiling, rose without words to swing open the huge safe behind him and bring forth a red velvet box. Two men stood on guard in the doorway. The Empress was not a bauble to be tossed about carelessly.

The little man opened the case and displayed the necklace. Mona, seeing him, wondered idly if anything of little Barry's had been as much to her as this jewel meant to Mr. Withington.

He laid the necklace gently in her hands. It seemed at once marvelous and pathetic. Her husband had given her the largest diamond available. He was dealing in superlatives just as a small boy selects the rosiest apple for his sweetheart, the most delicate rose for his mother.

"It's beautiful," she agreed, handing the diamond back to the jeweler who was hovering about much as a devoted nurse hovers when her charge is for the moment in incapable hands.

He begged to be allowed to fasten the chain about Madame's throat. "Beautiful! Charming!" he echoed. "Only Madame could wear such a stone!"

It was arranged that the diamond should remain in the safe at Withington's until the opera season when Mona should wear it on her first appearance in the Townsend box.

"Our first engagement of importance, really," her husband said, his eyes traveling along the thronged sidewalk as their cab threaded its way up Fifth avenue. "I do hope, my dear, that you will enjoy it. Forgive me if you can for anything I may unwittingly have done. Think it over. Is there anything else, anything at all that you would like to have me do?"

Mona's cameo profile was clear cut against the shadows of the cab. "Are you sure you would do anything I asked?" she said softly, without looking at him.

"I would try."

"Maybe I'll ask you later," he ordered as they neared 59th street. For some moments they drove in silence. Fall was more evident here than in the streets. Children on roller skates, warmly dressed, waited at crosswalks with their nurses. The trees were beginning to look bare. The shrubbery was bronzed with red berries.

Summer wanderers, summer absentees were returning. The new season had begun.

Vaguely Mona understood that something new had come about, too, in her relations with this man who was so strangely her husband. She did not—could not—hate him now. Yet through his life seemed to be a shadow. Her own life was ruined too.

"Ask me now. Tell me what I can do to make you happier!"

Mona aroused herself from her reveries to hear these words. Instantly she made up her mind. The car shot across the bridge and she could see a figure on horseback, reminding her somehow of that picture she had imagined of little Barry astride his pony at Twilands. Even then his uncle's animosity toward Barry had begun.

cause I have everything. Every desire, every comfort I could wish or even dream of wishing for. For the first time in my life I've been able to do things, give things to others." There was a break in her voice. Her eyes were shining.

"But what are you doing to Barry?" Mona went on. "Everything that can hinder him in his work. Those two boys have made a success of that old worked-out mine. But that success has been Steve's, not Barry's! Everything can be traced to Steve! He found (she was going to say the Empress but checked herself) the larger diamonds they sold to buy machinery. Steve controls the men more easily than Barry could. He has had more experience, I suppose, and understands them."

"I've never met Steve," Mr. Townsend commented idly. He sat very still.

"Whatever way you look at it this is Steve's enterprise. Barry doesn't count because of you. He came north to get money to finance the new dredging machinery."

"New," remarked Mr. Townsend disinterestedly. "Those mines have been worked for years without machinery. South American mining is shallow. Nothing like the South African mines."

"You light Twilands with electricity, don't you?" asked Mona hotly. "You don't use candles simply because people did a few hundred years ago. Let Barry have his inheritance or the money you are keeping from him. Oh, I know what you've done is legal enough but legality and right don't necessarily go hand in hand!"

They rode for a moment in silence. Mr. Townsend's breast was heaving. Her face was flushed and her breath came in quick, short gasps. Suddenly she opened her purse and began repairing the damage of the tears that had come into her eyes.

"When a woman gets out of a powder puff," observed Mr. Townsend coolly. "I realize she has had her say. So I'll have mine. Don't you suppose I know the Empress came out of that mine? Don't you suppose I know precisely what you'll do with it the moment you have the chance?"

"What?" asked Mona.

"Sell it. No woman wants to wear that lump of ice. Even though she knows it cost a million. Well, sell it and give the money to Barry if you like. But it will not come from me! You see?"

Mona looked at him in amazement. "Sell it? When?"

The man waved a smoothly gloved hand and laid it over the other which was grasping his walking stick.

"Any time. Now—today—tomorrow. Or better still, when I am gone."

CHANCELLOR HITLER

Adolph Hitler yesterday became chancellor of Germany. It was inevitable that such a man would be chancellor of Germany ever since the hate-breeding Treaty of Versailles was signed. Hitler has gained power through his appeal to race-prejudice, which always is strongest in periods of economic stress, to class consciousness and to nationalism. It was a memorable occasion back in the summer of 1925 when Dr. Harry L. Barnes raised his voice against the idea that Germany was wholly responsible. We were present in Berlin when he placed before a German audience his thesis, substantiated by research into government documents that the responsibility for the Great War was a joint responsibility, resting upon Austria, Russia, Germany, France and England, in varying degrees. The Treaty of Versailles had been founded upon the tenet that to Germany belonged the responsibility for that holocaust, therefore Germany should pay. Historians recognized the error and with the economists joined in deploring the Treaty of Versailles as a trouble-making document.

With bulldog tenacity the nations have continued to act as though Germany were wholly responsible and tried to make Germany pay the whole bill for the war. Evidence and prophecy has been piling up which undoubtedly long ago disillusioned the leaders of the various nations. But each delegate to the various conferences on the war debts has had a people at his back schooled in the short-sighted lessons of hate. Last July a correspondent from Germany, following the Lausanne conference wrote: No post-war conference involving German interests has been followed so swiftly by such a devastating sense of national disappointment than that which less than six days ago was concluded at Lausanne and was supposed to put an end to reparations."

The disappointment, the feeling of injury, of unfairness rankled in a new generation in Germany grown up since the war. The people were ready for Hitler. It is a fine testimony to the intelligence of the German people that Hitler's strength is not greater in the Reich. For in the program of his party we read: We demand for the German people equality with all other nations, abolition of the peace treaties of Versailles and St. Germain. A citizen can be only one suited to the state. The latter can be only one who has German blood, without regard to confession. No Jew, therefore, can be a person suited to the state. Anyone not a citizen can live in Germany only as a guest and must remain under legislation for foreigners. We demand that the state be obliged first of all to give the citizen a chance to earn his livelihood. If it is not possible to sustain the entire population of the country, citizens of foreign nations are to be deported. Further immigration of non-Germans is to be prohibited. We demand that all non-Germans who have immigrated to Germany since August 2, 1914, be forced to leave the Reich immediately. We demand a battle to the end against those who injure the interests of the community through their activities. Common thieves, usurers, profiteers are to be punished by death, without regard to confession or race. All editors and co-workers of newspapers appearing in the German language must be persons suited to the state.

There are many other less objectionable and equally or more attractive features of the Nazi program, as first promulgated. In proportion, however, as a party leader actually approaches responsibility and power it is a common spectacle to see him dropping the more radical of his tenets. Chancellor Hitler is no exception. They all want to remain in power. Particularly is this true of Hitler for his own forces are none too united behind him. They have differed regarding his original stand for full power in the chancellorship with his own party cohorts in each cabinet position, or a limited control, such as he has now accepted. Some have counseled taking what he could get. It seemed unwise, in view of the division and that recent elections have revealed that in all probability the Nazi party had reached the peak of its vote-getting power, not to take the limited power with the Chancellorship offered by President Von Hindenburg at this time.

There is no doubt but what Hitler's ideal is a Fascist state with himself the Duce. More than ever before, therefore, President Von Hindenburg defends the German republic against such a possibility. Anything may happen in Germany the next few weeks: civil war, a pogrom, or definite and final repudiation of the war debts and renewed vigor in German industrial affairs. Unfortunately the difference in ages between President Von Hindenburg and Chancellor Hitler is not conducive to the hope that Germany will retain even the semblance of a Republic.

FORD AVOIDS COURT APPEARANCE

The other day a subpoena was served upon Henry Ford, ordering his presence before a justice court for the taking of a deposition. Ford refused to observe the subpoena and instead of his being cited for contempt, or a bench warrant being issued for him, it is postponed and he is begged to come in. Finally his lawyers, before the superior court, find an alleged technicality in the matter, so that the subpoena is held invalid by the court.

It is entirely possible that there was such a technicality which would be valid under ordinary circumstances with ordinary men. But we just want to suggest that ordinary men would never have had a chance to have had that brought up before the court. The officer would have brought that man, or at least his body, before the court at once, and he would have been cited for contempt. At least the question of the legality would have been raised only after the man was brought into court. But all of this is done for Mr. Ford, without his being present or answering the subpoena.

Henry Ford has not appeared in court since his famous case against the Chicago Tribune, in which it will be recalled he declared in answer to a question: "History is the bunk." We do not blame him for not wanting to get into court. It is a disagreeable procedure, and he has successfully avoided it, as they have been having tremendous difficulty in finding him to serve a subpoena upon him.

What we do not like about it is the evidence which it brings out that some men are above and beyond the law. Ours is a government by law. We should have a profound respect for it. The confidence that Mr. Ford had, however, was very evidently in his ability to have his attorneys fight it out later. In the last analysis, we note that Mr. Leland, the son of the old Cadillac owner, interested in the case against Mr. Ford, has been unable to reach him with legal papers.

CHAIN STORE FAILURES

We have been given the impression that the chain stores were more immune to the business distress of the last three years than most other lines of business. But the depression has taken quite a toll of some of the chains. Like every other line of business operations, the larger chains have been able to weather the storm, but the smaller ones have had to bow before it.

We pointed out some time ago the failure of the United Cigar Stores, which occupied the most prominent corners in our large and small cities. These valuable corners are now all vacant. Last year the Schulte chain of stores went into receivership. During the last two weeks the McCrory chain of 5 cent to $1 stores and the McLellan stores operating on the same basis have gone to the wall.

This depression has been no respecter of systems of doing business. It has shown once more that business conducted wisely and conservatively is best able to meet the changing conditions which come about with the cyclical changes through the years.

A New Category of Worship

Christian Science Monitor
France is well within her rights, under the Washington Treaty, in building the new capital ship of 26,500 tons which is now on the stocks at Brest, but it is a matter for deep regret that in so doing she has committed the world to a new category of war vessel. It is nineteen years since France last ordered a capital ship and ten since one of these sea monsters was laid down by any country in the world.

That France has, after refraining in prosperous days, now decided in a time of budgetary difficulties to start work on this new ship, can be ascribed without hesitation to Germany's action in building the so-called 10,000-ton "pocket battleships," which are faster and more powerfully armed than any other vessels of their size.

The new French vessel, the Dunkerque, is designed to be an answer-plus to these ships. No one, however, can object to the Dunkerque's being a super-ship. It is the object of all new ships to be that, whether they be for purposes of peace or war. The chief trouble about her is her size. She stands midway between the 10,000-ton pocket battleships and the leviathans of 35,000 tons which will soon be obsolete. The implications of this fact are regrettably far-reaching.

Under the Hoover plan there was a prospect that the bigger ships would gradually disappear without being replaced. Now that the French battle cruiser is actually under construction it is certain that the other naval powers, not excluding Germany, will consider themselves obliged to have similar vessels—unless the French are willing to leave the Dunkerque unfinished.

The Dunkerque is sadly eloquent testimony to the paucity of statesmanship which has failed to bring disarmament to an eagerly waiting world. If, as may now be unavoidable, the Dunkerque is to be the first of a new class, it is imperative that the numbers of these ships should be strictly limited. Naval authorities are already speaking glibly of "two or three sister ships" which will in due course be added to the French navy, so there is no time to be lost.

Public Morale Required to Face Readjustment

Riverside Enterprise
The most important thing today for individuals, families and cities is to keep up their morale. Social morale is more important than it was during the war, because the cause is more vital to our future and we are less united in a common purpose.

A minister goes further, and says that morale at present is the most important thing in the world. Civilization is demoralized by forces it does not understand. While it remains demoralized it cannot do much about them. There needs to be collective action. There cannot be collective action without individual action. Everything goes back to individuals.

This means maintaining standards. It means keeping up courage. It means trying to understand things and then trying to get something done about them. The big trouble into which the depression has grown comes largely from the fact that, speaking in general, we've been "taking it lying down."

There are signs now of a change in that spirit. As people buck up, work together and start a big push, conditions will change.

"Economics" is not a set of abstract laws working in a vacuum. Economics is people making, buying and selling things. "Business conditions" are not self-operative and beyond control. Business conditions are what people make them.

Here's Speedy Justice

Pomona Progress-Bulletin
One day not long ago four bandits held up a little bank in Kaleva, Mich., killed the cashier and escaped with some $3000.

Exactly five days later three of the four were entering Marquette penitentiary to begin life sentences. The fourth, with a bullet in his body, was recovering under guard in a Michigan hospital, and a life sentence was waiting for him as soon as he got well.

It would be hard to find a more striking example of speedy justice.

Part of it, perhaps, may be due to Michigan's efficient state police force. It is even possible that part may be due to the fact that Michigan, having no capital punishment law, does not have such trouble getting murderers to plead guilty once they are caught. But whatever the explanation, the episode reflects great credit on Michigan's method of handling crime.

More Truth Than Poetry

WATCHWORD

(Sung in quite a number of city halls.)

Beware the reporter who mooches around
On a hunt for political news.The facts that he airs
About public affairs.And the methods the job-holders use,
And ruthlessly prints for the public to read.With never a quaver of pity,
When published next dayIn a flamboyant way
Will hurt the fair name of the city.Beware the reporter! Don't let him find out
Who is getting how much, and what for.When a newsmonger's face
Is observed in the place.Put a big, burly cop on the door,
Warn all of the boys to be on the alert.For his stuff, when the people have read it
And passed it along(Though, of course, it is wrong),
Will hurt the municipal credit.Beware the reporter! You never can tell
Unless you can shoe him away.And keep a closed door
On all councils of war.What the headlines will say the next day,
In the coming campaign we must go to the pollsWith another election to win.
(And win it we must.)Or we all will go bust!
DON'T LET THAT REPORTER GET IN!

MAYBE WE'RE WRONG

It seems to us that the farmers were most prosperous in the years when the politicians weren't taking care of them.

A final checking up of Christmas gifts shows that friend wife can give seven bridge parties this year.

So this is the improvement effected by stopping immigration. One trouble is that men can't examine a depression without bias until it's over, and then they forget about it.

A hick town is a place where people know your business so well they aren't surprised when the fire happens.

THE HAPPIEST HOMES ARE THE ONES
WHERE EVERYBODY STANDS AROUND THE KITCHEN IN THE WAY WHILE WAITING FOR BREAKFAST.

You can't sell gold bricks to moderns. There's no way to begin with the words: "Science says."

Japan may seem dumb, but she just shoots her cash customers instead of firing them and then paying them a dose.

Awful thought! The next thing will be pensions for fugitives from Southern chain gangs.

AMERICANISM: Nobodies scheming to attract attention; sometimes vainly trying to escape the curious crowds.

The radio comedians can't last long. There are only so many good old jokes that everybody recognizes.

You can't be held in jeopardy twice for any offense except that of making a taxable income.

It isn't charity if the first thing it asks people to swallow is their pride.

The hardest part of farm relief is to find a name for it that won't mean robbing Peter to pay Paul.

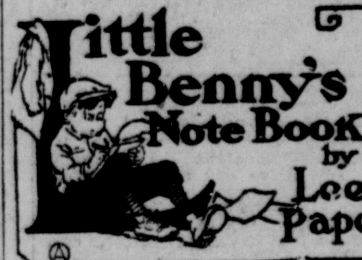

In other words, it is good statesmanship to forgive the debt of cash customers unless they are Americans.

The day Rome wasn't built in must have been one of a lame duck session.

The reason you know some statesmen are prompted by unworthy motives is because grown men couldn't be that dumb.

CORRECT THIS SENTENCE: "NO, NO, MOTHER," SAID THE FLAPPER, "IT WAS MY PARTY AND I'LL DO THE CLEANING UP."

(Copyright, 1933, Publishers' Syndicate)

I was wawking home from school and some lady was standing on her front steps trying to ring her doorbell only she couldn't on account of both her arms being full of bundles, and I was wondering if she would ring it with her nose and she said, Boy, boy.

Meaning me, and I said, Mam? and she said, Please ring this bell for me, I can't manage it.

Yes mam, I said.

And I went up the steps and rang it easy on account of not having any bundles, and a little girl with a lot of freckles and not many front teeth opened the door and the lady went in, saying, Wait there a minnit, boy, and I'll get you an apple.

Being a lady in black with pointy feet, and I started to wait partly out of politeness and mostly on account of feeling like an apple, and just then Sam Cross stopped going passed, saying, What's you waiting there for, Benny, whose house is that?

Darn if I know, I said.

Sam Cross being the stingiest guy of all the fellows, and never giving anybody anything and always wanting them to give him part of something and he said, Well G, if you don't know whose house it is why are you standing on their front steps for?

There's no law against standing on front steps, is there? I said. You're standing on the payment, if you don't like the looks of the house why don't you keep on going? I said. Being a hint that I wasn't anxious for his company, and he said, I didn't say anything about the house, it's all right looking house.

Proving he couldn't take hints, and just then the lady came out with the apple and handed it to me and shut the door again. Sam Cross saying, O, that's what you was standing there for, is it?

Sure, why don't you try standing on somebody's front steps and maybe somebody will come out and hand you an apple, I said.

And I stuck it in my pocket and kept on going home, Sam not having the nerve to ask me for a bit while I wasn't axually eating it myself.

Proving he has some manners anyways.

In the Long Ago

From The Register Files
14 Years Ago Today

JANUARY 31, 1919

Members of the United Presbyterian congregation were rejoicing over the wiping out of the church debt under the ministry of Dr. J. G. Kennedy. At the completion of the church building seven years before, the church debt was nearly $18,000. This had been reduced under the pastorate of the Rev. W. L. C. Samson, and when Dr. Kennedy became pastor five years earlier, it was with the determination to pay off the final mortgage. This was made possible at last, and the church was proud to be free from all indebtedness.

Santa Ana picture goes were flocking to the Temple theater to see "A Romance of Santa Ana" in which leading roles were taken by Clyde Alling, Horace Lee, Lloyd Blankenbeller, John Mitchell, Miss Ethel Inman, Mrs. Evelyn Kimball and little Pauline Riley.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

TECHNOCRACY AFTER VEBLEN

Yesterday I spoke of the philosophical foundation that Thorstein Veblen laid for the current theories of Technocracy.

Today I want to indicate the new factors which have come into the picture since Veblen wrote his The Engineers and the Price System, new factors the promoters of technocracy have had to take into account.

When Veblen wrote this stirring and seminal treatise, neither the nascent threat of technological unemployment nor the new theory of wages had forced itself on the attention of business men and the working world to the startling extent we later witnessed.

The manless factory, that startling child of modern technology which may prove either savior or savior had come into existence a half dozen years before Veblen wrote The Engineers and the Price System, but it was just peeping over the horizon as a threatening general development when this book appeared, and so Veblen did not take as fully into account the matter of technological unemployment his technocratic successors have.

And it was after his book appeared that erstwhile conservative business men, who had long held to the theory of low wages and long hours and high prices, succumbed to the contagion of Henry Ford's success and began to shift to the theory of higher wages and shorter hours and lower prices as the policy making for greatest total profits under the regime of science and the machine.

For a time, it was widely thought that in this new theory of wages and hours and prices modern man had found the secret of mastering the machine instead of letting the machine master him.

Mr. Veblen's technocratic successors have put this new business theory under the microscope and suggest that the post-war business man was able to follow a policy of higher wages and shorter hours and lower prices because science and the machine were enabling him to cut the costs of production, and that he was able to cut the costs of production because human labor was becoming less and less necessary while other and cheaper forms of energy were taking its place.

When you take Veblen's basic theory, which I summarized yesterday, and add to it these two later developments, you get the major bases of the technocratic prophecy of the ultimate and early collapse of the price and profit system.

THE GANG

"Richard has taken up with a gang. His whole heart is wrapped up in their doings. They have built a hut in one of the gardens and they carry all sorts of things to it for furnishings. They don't seem to do anything once they get there. All the fun seems to be in building and taking it apart, lighting a fire that drives them out into the open with chokings and tears. What ought we to do about it?"

What did you do when he began cutting his teeth? Made the best of it, didn't you? You rubbed his gums, you gave him a ring to bite on, supplied him with some crusts, and changed his diet. If things got too much for him and you, the dentist took a hand. The gang stage is all of a piece with the teething.

The boy is cutting the teeth of his childhood on the gang. He is preparing for a new stage of growth which will follow shortly. Tolerate the gang with kindly patience and step in only if you see things are going the wrong way.

The gang usually reflects the character of the boys themselves. If they have been well brought up, the gang is just a continuance of their rearing, with some high spots of originality, the outcroppings of unexpressed urges and yearnings they can scarcely explain even to themselves.

The fire is necessary. That is an old instinct. The fire is the altar about which the tribe gathers. It brings them certain feelings of warmth and friendliness and nearness. The smoke doesn't matter. In the gang the symbol is more than the thing. The whole thing is a symbol of the stage of growth they are experiencing. Let the boys alone. That is why they formed the gang—to get away from grown people for the time being and to feel a little on their own.

Now then a gang is set wrong. You will soon discover that, and then you definitely put a stop to its existence. Not because it is a gang, but because it is the wrong sort of gang. Usually the difficulty lies in the leader. Boys follow the unusual and the daring one, and it sometimes happens that he is not a good influence for them. Just remove the troublemaker and go on from there. By and by the boy will drop the gang and all its ways. He will take an interest in a girl, dress up, put on swaggering airs and be that dread of all parents, an adolescent.

The gang serves its purpose. Boys must have some outlet for their strong social traits. They must have companionship. They must have talk, full and free, around the fire. They must get out from under the restricting influence of home and school for a few hours now and then. The dreary round of adult impositions become unbearable to boys of 10 and 12. They need the relief of doing as they like for a time. That is what the gang really is.

Girls usually form societies. They meet to sew, to talk, to organize a charity benefit, to put on a play. They have the same need as the boys, but they express it in their own way. It is better to make this stage of growth pleasant. In that there is a promise of its being profitable.
